BIG SPLASH

Several surprises, both serious and humorous, awaited some 600 people Friday night at the 'Big Splash' in the memorial arena. The gala affair, with proceeds going to the indoor swimming pool fund and the Kelowna Gyr Club's Boyce Park, featured a he and she fashion show, a smorgasbord and dance. The biggest surprise came at midnight, marking Lady of the Lake Vicki Hoole's 21st birthday. Her parents were brought from Cranbrook and in the top shot Mr. Hoole holds a birthday cake for his daughter. Others in the picture are master of ceremonies Frank Baker of Vancouver, on the mike and Gyr organizer Roger Tait. Left Mrs. Jack Cooper, one of more than 40 people in the fashion show, tries to point beach buddy Rose-Lander in the right direction. (Courier Photos)

Temple Ruins Used By Cong For Hospital

PHNOM PENH (AP) — A Cambodian military spokesman said today that the Viet Cong are setting up hospitals and storage areas in the famed temple ruins at Angkor Wat about 185 miles northwest of Phnom Penh.

He also said more Viet Cong were massing near Kompong Speu, a provincial capital on the only highway open between Phnom Penh and Cambodia's major port.

Maj. Am Rong said villagers in the Angkor Wat area had told of the Viet Cong installations there and had reported fighting between Cambodian and Communist forces in the temple area. He said he did not know which temples the Viet Cong were using as hospitals and storage areas.

Hickel's Post In Jeopardy

NEW YORK (AP) — The Times says there is speculation that Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel may soon resign or be dismissed from his cabinet post in view of faltering relations with President Nixon.

Quoting unnamed Capitol Hill sources, the newspaper says Hickel's successor may be Fred J. Russell, named undersecretary of the interior by Nixon last March to succeed Russell E. Train.

Train was appointed chairman of the new Council on Environmental Quality.

Things Are Dull In Lagos Now

LAGOS (AP) — For the first time in seven years, it's dull here and for the most part the people of Africa's most populous country couldn't be happier.

Oil is up to 1,000,000 barrels a day, the world's 10th-biggest yield, and it should be double that in a few years. It is nearly twice what it was when Nigeria went to war with itself three years ago.

The cocoa crop, second largest in the world, promises to be good this year. So does the peanut harvest, traditionally the world's largest.

Towboat Union Takes Proposals

Foreigners Quit Troubled City

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Scattered gunshots were heard in Amman today as another planetload of about 150 foreign nationals fled out of the troubled Jordanian capital and Amman radio appealed to residents not to heed rumors of fresh trouble.

Several trucks packed with Palestinian guerrillas raced through the city to investigate a rumor of clashes between commandos and guards at the royal palace of King Hussein. The palace is located on the route to the airport.

Although firing was heard, there appeared to be no other evidence of new fighting in the city, still catching its breath in the calm that followed an agreement between the king and Palestinian guerrillas to end fierce clashes that threatened to plunge Jordan into civil war.

However, stores in the city centre reacted to the rumors by quickly shutting their doors, and people scurried for their homes on foot or by taxi.

Joint patrols of Jordanian army troops and commandos quickly appeared on the streets to urge storekeepers to stay open and made loudspeaker appeals to the people not to listen to baseless rumors aimed at disrupting normal life.

SAYS TANKS ON MOVE

The patrols detained a man who rode through the city on a motorcycle shouting that he had seen tanks moving into Amman from the outskirts of the city.

But a Reuters correspondent who toured the central area saw no tanks, although he saw apparently terrified people running to their homes.

Housing Policy 'Bungled' Stanfield Tells Commons

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition Leader Robert Stanfield told the Commons Friday that the government has bungled its housing policy and created a disastrous housing shortage through its anti-inflation policies.

He was speaking on a Conservative motion — on which there is no vote — calling for new measures before the Commons summer recess to stimulate expansion of house construction, reduce housing costs and reduce or eliminate unemployment in the construction trades.

Mr. Stanfield said housing starts had dropped 43 per cent in the first five months of this year, with May the worst.

Robert Andras, minister responsible for housing, responded with predictions announced earlier that "close to 200,000 units" would be started by the end of the year.

He said "we should get starts of at least 30,000 low-income housing units in 1970."

The minister said three-quarters of the decline in housing starts in April and May was due to a decrease in starts of low-income housing and the impact of construction strikes in Quebec and British Columbia.

The rate of low-income housing starts was depressed by decisions of provincial agencies and non-profit or low-income housing corporations, he said.

Mr. Andras said a committee of officials from the finance department, Bank of Canada and CMHC are monitoring housing starts and mortgage-lending.

The government would consider "remedial action" if things

DEXTERITY

Sailing always requires dexterity but a man and wife readying their craft for the day revealed a new problem. The problem was raising the mast of their boat among the forest of other masts in the anchorage. Both were required to manoeuvre the stick upright past neighbors' rigging.

NEWS IN A MINUTE

Brazil Releases Prisoners

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The Brazilian government agreed today to release the 40 political prisoners demanded by terrorists as ransom for the release of a kidnapped West German ambassador. "In an effort to save the life of West German Ambassador Ehrenfried Von Holleben, the government has agreed to release the 40 political prisoners," a note from the government said.

Track Relay Record Set

EDINBURGH, Scotland (Reuters) — British runners Rosemary Silbling, Pat Lowe, Lillian Board and Sheila Carey set a world record when they ran the 3,200-metre relay in eight minutes 27 seconds today.

Israeli Jets Launch Raid

CAIRO (Reuters) — Thirty-four Israeli jets raided several Egyptian positions along the entire Suez canal front early today, wounding six Egyptian soldiers, a military spokesman said.

Peterson Can See A Break In Construction Lockout

VANCOUVER (CP) — Striking towboat members of the Canadian Merchant Service Guild today announced acceptance of a settlement proposal, but the guild emphasized that the six-week strike is not over yet.

A guild spokesman said picket lines will be maintained until agreements are signed with each towboat company. The British Columbia Towboat Owners Association, representing the 53 companies, earlier recommended acceptance of the three-year package proposal worked out by federal mediators.

Cecil Rhodes, secretary-treasurer of the western branch of the guild, issued the following statement early today:

"Towboat members of the Merchant Service Guild have by secret ballot ratified the proposed agreement by a vote of 805 in favor and 195 against. However, the strike is not over and picket lines will be maintained and honored by all unions until the agreements are signed (by the individual companies)."

"We have also been advised by the B.C. Federation of Labor that affiliated members are not to return to work until they are advised to do so by their respective unions, who will be informed by the federation when the agreements are signed."

The strike began May 3 and hit hard at the B.C. economy, particularly the forest industry. Some 400 tugs, necessary to the forest industry for log and barge towing, have been out of service because of the strike.

Upwards of 20,000 men in logging camps, sawmills and pulp mills have been idled, either because of a log shortage or because workers refused to cross picket lines set up by the striking towboat men. The guild picketed operations that were being supplied by tugs manned by supervisory personnel.

28 PER CENT

The settlement proposal includes a 28.25 per cent compounded wage increase over three years and extensive improvements in manning and accommodation clauses, together with new Department of Transport regulations regarding safety conditions on the tugs.

The pay increase is 10 per cent each year in the first two years and six per cent in the third. Existing rates for licensed personnel range from $600 to $950 a month.

Captain Released On Bail

The towboat dispute led to the jailing last week of the guild's chief negotiator, Captain Arnie Davis, for contempt of court. He was released Friday on bail, pending an appeal scheduled to be heard June 22.

Capt. Davis steered clear of union business Friday, relaxing at home with his wife and two sons. He said his lawyer had advised him not to comment on the settlement proposal submitted by the towboat owners while Davis was in jail.

Meanwhile, a lockout-strike impasse in the B.C. construction industry continued today, although Labor Minister Leslie Peterson said he could see "the beginning of a break."

Both sides Friday rejected a 60-day truce proposed by Mr. Peterson, but agreed to participate in a 10-day round-the-clock negotiating session starting Monday.

Nine construction unions were locked out by employers April 14 and two other unions have since taken strike action. Some 25,000 construction workers now are idle throughout the province.

The dispute is over wages. A strike at the Hotel Vancouver was averted on deadline Friday, when 500 workers approved a three-year pact that gives them an increase of 56 cents an hour in five stages, plus additional pay for workers who don't receive tips.

Average wage under the old contract was $2.20 an hour. Employees said they would walk out Friday night if no settlement was reached.

A lockout of employees by 37 hotels from the outskirts of Vancouver to Hope in the upper Fraser Valley continued today, and 22 hotels in Greater Vancouver have been served strike notice by the Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union. No date has been set for a walkout. Both the Valley and Vancouver disputes are over wages.

In the forest industry, negotiations between the International Woodworkers of America and Forest Industrial Relations resume Monday — expiry date of the current IWA contract. So long as negotiations continue, however, there can be no strike. More than 30,000 IWA workers are affected, many of them idled since early May because of the towboat strike.

In Penticton, a strike by 170 members of the Canadian Union of Public Employees against the Okanagan city moved into its second week with no sign of a break.

Trout Seasoned With DDT For Benson In Penticton

Finance Minister Edgar Benson was invited to "have some Okanagan trout seasoned with DDT," and to "vote Liberal for unemployment" when he visited Penticton Friday night.

About 250 Canadian Union of Public Employees members from Penticton, Kelowna and Vernon greeted Mr. Benson when he arrived at a secondary school auditorium to address the Penticton Chamber of Commerce.

The finance minister, accompanied by Bruce Howard, MP for Okanagan-Boundary, spent five minutes speaking with the demonstrators before entering the auditorium to speak to about 500 people.

After the confrontation, demonstrators gathered at the steps of the school gym and listened to a short speech by Clive Lytle, education and public relations director for the B.C. Federation of Labor.

The demonstration then broke up and most people left the school.

Small groups stayed to chat and members of the Council of Postal Unions posed for pictures with their signs.

The civic employees have been on strike against Penticton for nine days. Other unions represented at the demonstration included the letter carriers, the postal workers, the fruit and vegetable workers, the IWA, the B.C. Government Employees and the machinists.

The meeting was held in the secondary school because the union planned to picket the Penticton Pench Bowl.

"Hey Benson, have a look at this," the demonstrators yelled when the finance minister arrived. They carried placards which said: "Workers need money, not Benson," and "To hell with Benson's wages policy," "Justice for Postal workers," and "Benson the guideline to poverty."

Meanwhile, both sides in the civic employee strike are silent about resuming negotiations. "There has been no indication from the city whatsoever," today said Bill Burke, a member of CUPE's negotiating team. "We've made every request possible to have negotiations started again."

On another front a dispute has boiled up between CUPE and the fruit and vegetable workers, who say they suspect striking civic employees of destroying some irrigation equipment.

Postal Dispute Negotiators Turning Deaf Ear To Kierans

OTTAWA (CP) — Postmaster General Eric Kierans today is the man caught in the squeeze between federal wage restraint guidelines and the growing anger of organized labor.

Mr. Kierans, who hopes to turn the post office into a modern, mechanized, profitable business, now must watch as rotating mail strikes disrupt his plans, lower post office income and threaten permanent business.

Both the postal unions and his fellow cabinet ministers are turning a deaf ear to his plea for a fast settlement of the postal dispute as they move into battle over the six-per-cent guidelines.

Friday, with the postal negotiations still deadlocked in their ninth month, the postal unions accepted promises of financial support from other trade unions and announced they can now keep the rotating strikes going indefinitely.

"Eventually somebody will have to give in but it won't be us," said Roger Decarie, chairman of the Council of Postal Workers, representing the country's 27,000 mailmen.

STANDING FIRM

Earlier Prime Minister Trudeau told reporters the government will maintain its support of the guidelines in negotiations with federal civil servants even if it means a sacrifice of efficiency in some government departments such as the post office.

Mr. Kierans called a news conference last week to warn that the post office is losing major customers and that its postage sales had dropped $3,000,000 in May.

Cecil Harper, chief negotiator for the treasury board, said Friday he is aware of Mr. Kierans' concern over the state of the post office but the minister's concern "had no bearing" on the way the treasury board is conducting negotiations.

And William Houle, co-chairman with Mr. Decarie of the postal council, said Mr. Kierans' announcement meant to him that the government was beginning to feel the squeeze of the rotating strike tactic.

Mr. Decarie said that when Mr. Kierans spoke to the postal union leaders about the long-term effects of the dispute on the post office "I told him he'd better put the pressure on Mr. Drury."

However, C. M. Drury, president of the treasury board, has already indicated he, too, is willing to risk long-term damage to the post office rather than yield on the six-per-cent wage guidelines.

UN Council Will Hold Regular Talks

UNITED NATIONS (Reuters) — The Security Council, in a major advance, agreed unanimously Friday night to hold periodic meetings at high ministerial level to review world problems.

Although the United Nations charter specifically provides for such sessions, none has been held in the 25-year history of the world body, principally because of cold war-induced divisions among the great powers which are members of the council.

The decision was seen as a recognition that the cold war impediment no longer exists.

London's Evening Newspapers Reappear After 36-Hour Talks

LONDON (Reuters) — London's evening newspapers reappeared today, the first major papers to come out since a three-day newspaper-strike was settled earlier in the day.

After 36 hours of talks, publishers and production unions settled for an average 10-per-cent wage increase for 28,000 workers in the London-based industry.

The agreement also held out hope of a new deal which would end inter-union rivalry that has plagued the industry since the last Fleet Street shutdown 15 years ago.

The national newspapers have dwindled in numbers since the 1955 stoppage, which lasted 26 days. There had been fears that a further prolonged strike would kill off the economically weaker of Britain's prestige newspapers.

Don Ryder, chairman of the Reed Group, publishers of The Daily Mirror, Britain's largest daily, said he thought the agreement would cost the industry more than £5,000,000 ($12,500,000).

THERE WAS SOMETHING to please the fashion tastes of everyone Friday night at the Big Splash in the Memorial Arena. One of the evening's major attractions was the he and she fashion show, featuring more than 40 prominent local male and female models. Girl watchers enjoyed the two-piece outfit displayed by Sue France, left, while candid comments on all the models' garments were provided by Mrs. D. A. Chapman and popular Vancouver personality Frank Baker. —(Courier Photos)

REAL FUN NIGHT

The Big Splash A Huge Success

In spite of a public address system that wasn't, and a heat wave that was, the Kelowna Memorial Arena Friday night was a kaleidoscope of summer fashions, happy people, good music and a smorgasbord table laden with food.

The crowd of 600 people who attended the Big Splash Ball, sponsored by the Gyro Club of Kelowna in aid of the indoor swimming pool fund, came to hear Frank Baker and to have a good time, and they did.

The he and she fashion show, featuring many well known personalities of Kelowna and district, was a success even though the PA system went wonky. Pantomime actions of the models and or commentator Frank Baker proved to be entertaining enough for the fun loving crowd, who made their own comments; and the majority of women in the crowd agreed that the addition of not just one or two male models, but 20 of them, was a terrific idea.

Models taking part in the show, who came out in couples, were: Mrs. Tom Capozzi, wife of the youngest of three well-known Capozzi brothers. The mother of four children, she has done a good deal of modeling in aid of community projects and always comes out with something exciting in her own wardrobe.

WELL-KNOWN

Dennis Gerace is well known to theatre-goers in this area for his part in The Devil's Disciple. He grew up in Trail and is a pharmacy graduate of UBC.

Mrs. T. C. McLaughlin is well known for her keen interest in the arts, theatre and the Kelowna Art Exhibit Society and is currently the Okanagan zone representative on the B.C. Drama Association. She is also a governor of the Theatre Canada.

Montie Elsdon came to Kelowna in 1960 from Saskatchewan. In 1964 he opened his own business here, Montie's Four Seasons; is an avid Gyro and the father of five daughters.

Mrs. J. P. Curell is best known in Kelowna for her unflagging enthusiasm for many community projects and has worked hard to help the hospital auxiliary raise funds. As co-ordinator for the Big Splash she has put many months of work into the gala evenings.

Graini Kalkoff came to Kelowna 10 years ago to take over The Capitol News, is active in Lions and a director of the Kelowna Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. Horace Simpson is a member of the Simpson Sawmill family which gave the famous Knox Mountain to Kelowna, along with $100,000 to develop the mountain as a park area. She has also worked hard to see Sunnyvale school develop.

Dr. Alan France is known as the skiing doctor. He graduated from Queens University in 1954 and began private practice in his native Kelowna in 1955. He was B.C. Junior badminton singles and mixed doubles badminton champion in 1938, 39 and 40, when he left to serve in the RCAF for four years.

Mrs. Inn MacDonald is the former Eve Jenkins and was born in Kelowna to one of this city's pioneer families. She and her husband own and operate Eve's of Kelowna.

Russ Richardson is known for both his 13 years at CHBC-TV as program and news director, and for his many theatrical appearances in Kelowna.

Mrs. Phillip Large was Lady of the Lake in 1958 and runner-up in the Miss Canada contest. She is the mother of three children and teaches folk dancing.

J. Bruce Smith is one of the busiest men in British Columbia, holding directorships in many Canadian companies. He has been president of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce and of the B.C. Chamber, as well as currently serving as provincial director on the Canadian Chamber.

VETERAN WORKER

Mrs. Len Leathley is director of volunteer services at the Kelowna General Hospital for the past seven years. She was recently honored with a life membership and service award by the Red Cross for more than 25 years service on their behalf.

William Stevenson, manager of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce, is a fine cricketer player and is also a Gyro.

Mrs. Jack Cooper works part time with the parks and recreation commission and is teaching a class of advanced gymnastics and is also working toward displays for the 1970 Regatta.

Ross Lander was the only legal 'eagle' in the show, in practice in Kelowna since 1960. He is active in the Gyro Club and an ardent skier.

Mrs. Gloria Mildenberger is a well known person in radio in Kelowna and has been employed as Girl Friday of radio station CKOV for more than 10 years. She is a real theatre buff and has taken lead roles in many local productions.

THEATRE BOOSTER

Dave Chapman has been a go-getter all his life and was the man responsible for the beautiful community theatre in Kelowna today. He is a past president and past governor of Gyro and past president of the Automotive Transport Association of British Columbia. Born in Kelowna he has always been deeply involved in civic affairs.

Vicki Hoole, Lady of the Lake, was Miss Gyro last year. She has been a wonderful ambassador for Kelowna during the past year.

Hugh Fitzpatrick is Gyro president this year, president of McLean and Fitzpatrick and is also active in the cub movement.

Tina Lesue was born in Samoa, of Samoan and Hawaiian parents and came to Kelowna as hostess in the Tiki Club but has since taken over the management of a dress shop. She is a professional ballroom dancer and has been a hostess at the famous Don Ho night club in Honolulu.

Ken Harding has lived all his life in Kelowna and has been in the general insurance business for the past 17 years.

FOUNDED BALLET

Dr. Gweneth Lloyd came to Canada from England in 1938, founded the Royal Winnipeg Ballet and later came to the Okanagan and founded the Canadian School of Ballet. She was awarded the Service Medal of Canada in 1968 and received an honorary doctorate from the University of Calgary the same year.

Harold Pettman is Mr. Theatre in Kelowna. He has taken the lead in many musical productions. He is the secretary-manager of Okanagan Federated Shoppers.

Mrs. Desmond Morrow is the wife of a Kelowna pathologist. Dr. Desmond Morrow, and is the past president of the Kelowna Hospital Auxiliary which has raised thousands of dollars for the hospital. Next to her family of five children her great love is skiing.

Inn Ritchie and his wife Helen own and operate two beauty salons in Kelowna. He has been generous with help for models for fashion shows, is an ardent snow and water skier.

Mrs. Maurice Meikle was a junior golf champion at 14 years, a bathing beauty contestant at 18 and Lady of the Lake contestant in 1930. She was also champion of the ladies golf club in 1967.

Len Marsh is well known in theatrical circles also and is the personnel officer at Chapman's Transport.

Ald. Gwen Holland is a 'one of a kind' woman in Kelowna, as this city's first woman alderman. She has been active in gymnastics and athletics all her life and for many years taught women's keep fit classes.

James Browne is the third generation of James Brownes to be in the radio field and is assistant manager of CKOV in Kelowna. He is a Kelowna High School graduate and is in charge of the Kelowna Ski Club.

Sue France is a third year physical education student at Simon Fraser University and is home for her sixth summer of teaching swimming. This will be her third summer of coaching the Kelowna Swim Team.

There is probably no one in Kelowna more anxious to see Kelowna get an indoor swimming pool.

KELOWNA NATIVE

Frank Whitehead was born and lived all his life in Kelowna and recently moved from the Stag Shop to the new Locker Room as manager. He water skis, snow skis and being a bachelor, chases girls in his spare time.

Mrs. George Athans is a former Manitoba speed and synchronized swimming champion, a title she held for 10 years. She ran the synchronized swimming competitions in Kelowna for many years and has been a judge at national level in Vancouver.

Ted Runnalls moved to Kelowna in 1963 and is manager of Hemsworth Turton and Co., a brokerage house, which opened in Kelowna last summer. He has worked hard for many years on the Regatta Association.

Mrs. William Sullivan, the mother of 11 children, who moved to Kelowna a few years ago started the Newcomers' Club, which now has a membership of more than 300. She is also involved in other community affairs.

Jack Hambleton came to Kelowna from Vancouver in 1964 and showing great optimism, opened the first commercial art gallery in the Okanagan. He is an international artist in his own right.

PUSHING DRIVE

Mrs. Ray Busch is the wife of Ray Busch, president of the Kelowna Kinsmen Club, which is spearheading the campaign for the indoor swimming pool in Kelowna. She is active in Kinetics and supports many community activities.

Roy Chapman, general manager of CHBC-TV, has been most generous with his time and talent in community affairs and is an enthusiastic skier.

Elizabeth Ann Williamson has worked untiringly for many major projects in Kelowna, including the community theatre and has put in untold hours for the hospital auxiliary.

John Hindle is known as the friendly innkeeper, managing Eldorado Arms in the summer and in the winter is president of the Lake Louise Lifts, the largest ski area in Canada.

Dancing followed the fashion show and smorgasbord and at midnight Lady of the Lake, Vicki Hoole, who was Miss Gyro in last year's contest, was surprised by a huge birthday cake in honor of her 21st birthday. The cake, wheeled in by her father Lloyd Hoole of Cranbrook, was lit by special sparkler candles supplied by Frank Baker. Mrs. Hoole also accompanied her husband to Kelowna for the Big Splash.

ELECTION DUE

Grape Board Now Reality

A proposed grape marketing board approved in plebiscite by 102 Okanagan growers Friday, now has the green light from the B.C. cabinet.

Word of approval was received by government-appointed returning officer for the vote, L. R. Stephens, from Agriculture Minister Cyril Sheford, who ordered the vote early in March. The announcement also designated local members of a provisional board who will administer the scheme until the first annual meeting of registered grape growers, when the official board will be elected by member growers.

Appointed to the provisional board are: Eden Raikes, president of the British Columbia

Grape Growers' Association, Dr. Eldridge Avery and Martin Casorso, all of Kelowna, Martin Richards of Penticton and George Covert of Oliver.

A meeting of the provisional board Friday named Mr. Raikes chairman, and Mr. Stephens secretary of the provisional body.

Designed to give growers a better bargaining position with wineries, recommendations for the marketing board received unanimous approval from about 100 growers at a special meeting of the BCGGA March 5. A subsequent vote last month received a 93 per cent return in favor of the marketing board, representing 80 per cent of 2,290 acres of planted grapes in the Valley. One hundred and seventeen growers registered for the vote, one ballot was unmarked and six failed to meet the May 25 voting deadline. Results of the vote were released Friday by M. M. Gilchrist, chairman of the provincial marketing board.

In a prepared statement today, Mr. Raikes said directors of the BCGGA "are very pleased that growers in the province have endorsed by such an overwhelming vote, the recommendations made them earlier this year." He added: "the response to our plebiscite by the provincial government, and particularly the minister of agriculture, has been both decisive and favorable."

Mr. Raikes said the board hopes "those winery interests that, in the past, have tended to make unfavorable comparisons both to price and quality between British Columbia grapes and those grown in California will review their position."

The statement emphasized "the board does not support the idea the price of grapes grown in a foreign country 2,000 miles away, under entirely different climatic conditions, should have any bearing on grapes grown in the Okanagan."

Mr. Raikes said most wineries in the province have "recognized" the need for a realistic adjustment in price structure. "He added the board hoped "with goodwill on both sides, a speedy agreement can be reached." Another bright star on the grape growing horizon he said, was the prospect this year of the "first $1,000,000 crop" and related benefits to creating "a lot of employment in the Valley."

Approval of the marketing board by the cabinet added Mr. Raikes, have given growers the "mechanics to go to wineries to negotiate." He expects the first meeting with wineries to discuss terms of sale for this year's crop will be called by the board this month.

Two-Thirds Fail Vehicle Testing

Two-thirds of the 529 cars going through the motor vehicle branch's testing unit at the arena parking lot to Friday night have failed, says R. E. Mooney, senior inspector.

Of that total, headlights are the biggest contributor to the failure rate, followed by brakes, steering, exhaust mechanism (mufflers), tires following in that order.

"Some local garages have been setting lights to the left, others low and to the right, and others high," said one inspector.

"The problem shows at the annual inspection," he added, and many motorists wonder why their vehicles are failed.

"If this had been at the Coast, the garages there would have no excuse for setting the lights incorrectly—they have all been instructed how the lights should be set," he added.

Other problems, which also appear common are brakes and steering.

"Like the headlight problem, there is no year vehicle which seems to have the largest percentage of failures," Mr. Mooney said. "The problem is common even to new cars as it is for older ones."

Toe-in appears to be the biggest cause of steering failures, while toe-out falls in the second place.

Lack of brake servicing or poor work are listed as major reasons for brake failures, Mr. Mooney added.

In Vancouver the failure rate is 30 per cent.

Cloudy Skies On Way Out

Cloudy skies and light rain should end Sunday afternoon, as a disturbance from Montana, which brought rain to the Okanagan today, moves out of the district and a high pressure system from Washington moves in.

Skies should remain cloudy today and Sunday morning, clearing in the afternoon. Winds should be light, rising at times to northerly 15.

Friday's high was 78, the overnight low was 51 with 26 inches of precipitation recorded. The low tonight and high Sunday should be 52 and 80.

Two Plead Not Guilty

Two not guilty pleas and a remand without plea were handed in provincial court today. John Gustav Holland, Vernon, was released on $750 cash bail after pleading not guilty to driving while impaired. He was arrested early today and will appear for trial Friday.

Also remanded to Friday on $700 recognizance bail was Leonard D. Budinsky, Rutland, who pleaded not guilty to dangerous driving. He was arrested on Highway 97 Friday, Chester, Kelowna, was remanded without plea to July 7 on a charge of common assault.

Police Check Wild Parties

Police spent a quiet night in Kelowna, with only two complaints to investigate. David Hamm, Kelowna, reported his car was struck and damaged while parked early today at the Willow Inn Hotel parking lot. Police have no details on the accident.

Several "wild parties" were investigated during the night, and RCMP are dealing with a complaint of a stolen blanket from one of them at 345 Francis Ave.

Aquatic Blaze Last June 14

Sunday is the first anniversary of one of the most spectacular fires in Central Okanagan history.

Early in the afternoon of June 14 last year hundreds of people were enjoying a sunny afternoon in Kelowna's City Park. In the next three hours they saw the entire Aquatic complex go up in flames, with the exception of the Ogopogo Pool and the Athlone Tower.

Initial damage estimates ranged as high as $750,000, with at least $500,000 needed for replacement.

The Kelowna International Regatta Association executive faced the disaster with only 49 days until the 68th annual Regatta started.

Several emergency meetings were held, offers of aid poured in and the City of Kelowna made a major financial contribution.

Portable bleachers were brought in, as they will be again this year, and the show was salvaged.

Final plans for eventual replacement of an aquatic complex have still not been made.

BEHIND THE SCENES

You Decide Your Safety

By JOE DARY
Courier Staff

Summer vacation time is just around the corner and to the majority of Canadians this means they will be travelling on highways and byways across the land.

This also means the summer will probably mean more accidents are likely to occur due to heavier traffic and near-perfect driving conditions.

To try to cut the number of fatalities (4,438 in 1969, compared with 5,254 in 1968), the Canadian Safety Council, the RCMP, the oil companies and auto manufacturers and the Canadian Automotive Association have had campaigns urging motorists to maintain a safe mechanical condition of their vehicles.

Every spring a large campaign is begun to convince motorists to change their car from winter operation to summer and have the car checked from stem to stern.

IN ADDITION, two major oil companies operate diagnostic centres, where for a minimal charge the entire vehicle is inspected, and this includes such items as the engine, carburetor, transmission, differential as well as normal areas inspected, which include lights, brakes, steering and exhaust mechanism.

The manager of one such centre in Calgary said, "One loose bolt in the front end assembly may not mean much to some people, but eventually that bolt could cause the entire assembly to collapse and create a traffic hazard."

Unfortunately for Okanagan residents, such centres are not available here.

However, it appears as though the provinces are beginning to take steps to reduce the "slaughter" on the highways. These steps include: removal of old or mechanically unsound vehicles from the road;

Driver education programs;

Tougher laws for drinking drivers;

Improving the quality of roads;

Stiffer penalties for poor or irresponsible drivers.

MEANWHILE, EVEN the medical profession is beginning to take note of the annual traffic toll, which claims the largest percentage of deaths between the ages of one to 37, say experts in the new field of traffic medicine.

In a Canadian Press story, the headline "Doctors examine road toll but can't prescribe treatment," the Canadian medical profession was told the highway slaughter "is a disease of epidemic proportions, that, like any other epidemic, can be contained by preventive measures as was smallpox in the 18th century."

IN RECENT YEARS, the provinces have had their independent testing centres, such as the one currently visiting Kelowna, where mechanical defects are shown to the owners and where he is advised to have the defects corrected.

Recent statistics from the motor vehicle branch show for last December, out of 17,099 traffic accidents in the province, 16,535 vehicles were in apparently good condition, 115 had brake problems, 35 defective steering and 14 both headlights failing to operate.

Cpl. D. M. McEay, in charge of the RCMP's Kelowna detachment highway patrol, said in 1969, 1,860 vehicles were issued summonses for such things as repairs to defective vehicles.

LAST YEAR, when the vehicle inspectors were here, 810 cars were tested, and 63.7 per cent rejected, or 502 vehicles.

The biggest contributors to the causes of rejection were headlights, with 47 cases; mufflers, 83; 70 with no plate lamps; 39 with steering and 44 with wheel alignment.

Since the program is voluntary, not every vehicle operating on Kelowna streets is included in this tally.

However, an indication can be made from existing statistics and expanded to cover all vehicles.

The province is attempting to cut the number of fatal accidents, and with 542 road deaths in 1969, compared with 573 in 1968, the program is beginning to pay off.

The demerit system, which is also becoming operational in other parts of the country, has had some effect.

Drivers here sometimes have the option of having their licences suspended or they can take a defensive driving course, after they have accumulated nine demerit points, for minor offences.

For enterprising children even a muddy and bedraggled marker can become a fun thing. Two boys found a discarded length of lathing with a square piece of red cloth attached in a puddle by the railroad yards early today and immediately it became a flag. The Missing Day

Did you know that the space program is busy proving that what has been called "myth" in the Bible is "true"? Mr. Harold Hill, President of Curtis Engine Company in Baltimore, Md., and a consultant in the space program related the following development:

"I think one of the most amazing things that God has for us today happened recently to our astronauts and space scientists at Green Belt, Md. They were checking the position of the sun, moon and planets out in space where they would be a 100 years and 1,000 years from now. We have to know this so we don't send a satellite up and have it bump into something while in orbit. We have to lay out the orbit in terms of the life of the satellite, so we ran the computer measurement back and forth over the centuries when it came to a halt. A red signal appeared which meant that there was something wrong either in the info fed into the computer or with the results as compared to the standards. We called in the service department to check it out and they in turn reported that the computer was functioning perfectly. The IBM head of operations finally asked the obvious question, 'What's wrong?' We discover that there is a day missing in space in the elapsed time. There didn't seem to be an answer."

"One religious fellow however interrupted the silence and said, 'You know, when I went to Sunday School they talked about the sun standing still.' Not knowing what else to say they challenged him, 'Show us.' So, he got out his Bible and referred them to the 10th chapter of Joshua where they read what they considered somewhat of a ridiculous statement. It read: 'Fear them not; I have delivered them into thy hand; there shall not a man of them stand before thee.' Joshua was concerned for he was surrounded by the enemy. Yet he felt confident of victory if he could only have more daylight, so he asked God to cause the sun to stand still. The Bible reads, 'the sun stood still and the moon stayed about a whole day.' The spacemen surmised that this must be the missing day so they checked it out. They ran the computer over this period in time and found that it came close but not close enough. The elapsed time missing they found out to be 23 hours and 20 minutes—not a whole day. They re-read the Bible account; it read, 'about (approximately) a whole day'.

"But they were still in trouble because if you cannot account for 40 minutes you'll be in trouble 10,000 years from now. 40 minutes had to be found else it multiplies itself over many times in orbit. Well, this religious fellow remembered that somewhere in the Bible it spoke of the sun going backward. He related it but the spacemen thought he was out of his mind. But then they did a little more research and in 2 Kings 20 they discovered that King Hezekiah, doubting the word of the prophet Isaiah, asked for a sign. Isaiah asked, 'Do you want the sun to go ahead 10 degrees?' Hezekiah answered, 'It is nothing for the sun to go ahead 10 degrees, but let the shadow return backward 10 degrees.' And so it happened. The spacemen discovered that 10 degrees is equal to 40 minutes. These two Bible accounts make up for the missing day! Thus the space travellers logged these two accounts in the log-book as being the missing day in the universe."

The spacemen found the Scriptures amazingly accurate in their computations. It's all the more reason why we should believe its message of God and His Son Jesus, salvation and judgment to come.

Women In The Job Market

(Chatham News)

While the fact that women take jobs is widely tolerated in this country, some of the arguments used against this practice are as fallacious as they are sanctimonious and erroneous.

God created women as they are and as the main partner in the procreation of children.

They are also the main source of food for their children, even if, instead of feeding their babies themselves they bottle-feed them.

There is a widely-known economic aphorism that prices increase because "too much money is chasing too few goods."

This might be converted to cover a phase of the labor market that many of us ignore.

We should be able to consider "too many people chasing too few jobs."

This is all the more true in this period of inflation, when cutting down all along the line creates a good deal of unemployment.

Also means that the wives who took jobs to ease the burden of running the family off the shoulders of their husbands are taking jobs which by rights should be their men's.

It also means that through glutting the labor market women are reducing the earning potential of their men, be they husbands, brothers or sons.

These are just plain and straight forward economic arguments.

There are many other reasons such as the creation of juvenile delinquents through lack of supervision in the home, neglect of cleanliness, loss of morality, promiscuity and many other anti-social features that mar our daily life.

Ponder this problem and you will see there are many other features in the employment, the part-time employment and moonlighting that contribute to the difficulties under which our world labors.

Ears Pinned Back

(Victoria Times)

Professor Higgins of Shaw's "Pygmalion"—or the musical "My Fair Lady"—has found an interesting counterpart in Mrs. Madeleine Royan-Ferland of Quebec's Gendron commission. The lady has pinned back the ears of a youthful Quebecois calling for French unilingualism in his province to preserve its culture, by telling him that his French is weak, his grammar and vocabulary both poor. "If that is the kind of unilingualism you want, how can you expect French to survive in Quebec," she asks.

The question is valid. It would be more impressive, however, if it could be compared to a universally excellent Canadian "English". There is, unfortunately, no universality in that area either.

LOOKING BACK WITH OLD STAGER

Annual Scout, Cub Concert Big Thing 50 Years Ago

By ART GRAY

Author of Kelowna—Tales of Bygone Days

The Kelowna Courier of June 10, 1920 carried a detailed account of the Seventh Annual Scout and Cub Concert put on by the Kelowna Boy Scouts and the Wolf Cubs, which was presented to the public on the stage of the Empress Theatre on the Friday evening and Saturday afternoon of the previous week.

It was not a show by friends and supporters of the Scouts, to aid their cause, it was an all Scout and Cub show, by the boys themselves, with plenty of aid and coaching by their leaders, and others interested.

The audience, we are told, "comfortably filled the building at each performance." The names of the boys taking leading parts were not clearly indicated with full first names, but most readers will no doubt be able to identify quite a number of prominent citizens of Kelowna of later years by the single initial given.

The program opened with the "Reveille" by the buglers. In these days any faint association with anything of a military nature is frowned upon, and bugles and buglers have become extinct in most scout organizations. This was followed by a chorus, popular in its day, "The Lads of the Old Brigade." This, of course, refers to the aged veterans of British wars, and no doubt would get a thumbs down treatment today.

BODY BUILDING

The next item was an illustration of body building, in the form of tumbling, which included some humorous turns also.

It might be mentioned in passing that the "Old Brigade" chorus was sung by a group of Wolf Cubs, some of whom will be recognized as leading lights of Kelowna in their adult years. They were G. Meikle, D. Loane, B. McCarthy, W. Longley, E. Todd and G. Haug.

Scout H. Brown followed with a monologue, "The Clean Sweep," and an encore "Tramp Philosophy" with Mrs. Herga Ambler playing an accompaniment.

What was considered to be the feature item on the program according to the Courier, was a performance on the parallel bars by a group of Scouts and an assistant Scoutmaster. The latter was Dick Parkinson, more recently the mayor of Kelowna.

Others on the team were patrol leaders G. Mantle, R. Hall and E. Hunter, seconds, A. Clarence and H. Mantle, and scouts C. Rowcliffe and C. Cunningham. They followed this with a display of pyramid building.

Cub D. Duggan gave a pleasing recitation "My Old Cayuse," to complete the first part of the program.

After a brief interval the curtain went up and the Wolf Cubs came in view lustily singing "Ye Sons of the Empire." That last word really dates it, they hadn't yet heard of "Commonwealth."

Dorothy Leckie, we are told, played the accompaniment, a young lady who was quite a belle in her day, if my memory serves me right—and it is usually fairly accurate in such cases.

"Freckles," a popular song of the day, was sung by the Scouts, with B. McCarthy singing the solo part.

SKETCH

A sketch followed entitled "The Monkey's Surprise." The play was a short one written by Helen Powell herself, and was included in the first, and many subsequent printings of "Scouting for Boys," the Boy Scout Rev. Thomas Griffith, both the manual for all the world for many years. I had a copy of it myself for a long time, but it disappeared somewhere or other along the way.

The reference to "Monkey" may confuse moderns, but it was a name given to boys who caught the Boy Scout fever when the movement was first started by "B.P." but did not join a troop, going off on their own in noisome "uniforms," bringing the real Scouts into disrepute in some cases. They were a constant target of "B.P." and cartooned by him in "The Scout."

In the play, when presented at Kelowna, Scout W. Ackroyd had the unpopular role of the "Monkey Scout" while Scout O. Winter played the part of an old gentleman and the Baden-Powell Boy Scout was B. McCarthy. There was also a patrol of B.P. Scouts, A. S. M. DuMoulin, second E. Wilson and scouts Morden and Laidlaw.

TRIBUTE PAID

Philip Dumoulin, of the Scout Committee, paid tribute to the work of Scoutmaster E. C. Weddell, a man who was associated with scouting for many years afterwards, as scoutmaster, and later as District Commissioner. Cubmaster Wedge was also paid tribute for his work with the Wolf Cubs.

Lt.-Col. W. H. Moodie was then called upon to present badges and awards to the boys. The president of the Kelowna branch of the Great War Veterans Association (predecessor of the present-day Canadian Legion), he told of the work done by Boy Scouts in Britain during the Great War. There was a long list of badges and awards that were to be presented that night, all indicating an industrious group of young scouts in the troop of that day.

The Wolf Cubs put on exhibitions of semaphore signalling, Indian club swinging and gymnastic drills. A comedy item by a scout, given by second H. Mantle, was the impersonation of a charming young dandy. He brought down the house with his singing of "You'd Be Surprised," a popular song of the day.

A gymnastic drill by the scouts which included pyramid building was followed by the presentation of badges and awards. The entertainment finale was the singing of a chorus by the troop, entitled "Have a Smile," patrol leader George Mantle singing the solo part.

BADGES PRESENTED

On the Saturday afternoon the whole performance was repeated, except the badge presentations. The bugle band rendered two marches "In a spirited manner" in place of it.

A list of "thank you's" at the end of the report indicates that the following community minded citizens of that day assisted the scout leaders in preparation and presentation of the annual entertainment. They were Ethelwyn Jones, Dorothy Leckie, Mrs. Herga Ambler, Jack Thayer and former Cubmaster Bart-holomew.

The activity of the Kelowna Boy Scout Troop and the publicity they received no doubt had a bearing upon the successful launching of a second Boy Scout troop in the area. In May, 1920, a troop of Boy Scouts was formed in Rutland. The Scoutmaster was Edward T. Money, an Englishman who came originally from Suffolk, England, to Saskatchewan, and later moved to Rutland in 1918. The troop consisted of three patrols of six scouts, and the assistant Scoutmaster was the Methodist minister at Rutland at that time,

NEWS ANALYSIS

English Elections Quite Provincial

By PHILIP DEANE
Foreign Affairs Analyst

It comes as a shock to discover that British elections are now quite provincial. Touring the constituencies with a candidate on a recent trip or watching party political broadcasts on television, one was struck most by the fact that the candidates acted as if they were talking to retarded children, and uninformed children at that. The speeches were carefully and beautifully presented but they spelled out issues in terms suitable for third grade primers.

Such simplicity of exposition makes for dishonesty, of course, because no issue is that simple. To achieve simplicity, essential facts have to be left out and thus the public does not get the whole truth: it is not for nothing that the oath in court demands the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

The Labor Party, for instance, talks of British economy recovery as if this were a final fact rather than a temporary fiscal voyage. The Conservatives talk of reducing taxes and increasing military expenditure at the same time and do not explain how this will raise everyone's standard of living. The Liberal Party sounds as if it believes its own line but it is a hopelessly naive line: they propose to put everyone on piece work so that extra productivity gives people extra money; nowhere do the Liberals mention the deep-rooted opposition of British trade-unionists to any meaningful connection between productivity and wages (meaningful in the same that falling productivity would bring lower wages just as rising productivity would bring higher wages).

NO REALISM
All three parties speak as if Britain were still a very great power with substantial influence on world affairs. All three talk as if the Common Market is waiting for Britain, hat in hand. From no party is there a realistic appraisal of Britain's position in the world as an overpopulated island with insufficient natural resources and a standard of living above her capacity to earn.

Electional speeches by the two major parties contain accusations and counter-accusations that the other party is lying. Mr. Wilson promised 500,000 new houses and he only delivered 360,000, cry the Tories. Labor accuses the conservatives of favoring the rich, which is largely untrue. The conservatives accuse Labor of ignoring the middle class which is also largely untrue.

The reaction of the man in the street is one of contempt for all parties. He will vote for the lesser of three evils, whichever he thinks that is.

CANADA'S STORY

Port Talbot Hermit Was Great Settler

By BOB BOWMAN

In some ways John Graves Simcoe, the first lieutenant-governor of Upper Canada, may have been a stuffy imperialist, but he was an amazing man for getting around his rough domain and seeing it for himself. One of his first trips was from Niagara (then the capital) to Detroit in February, 1793, traveling by sleigh and often camping in tents on the snow.

One of his aides on that trip was young Lieutenant Thomas Talbot who was so inspired by the country that he resolved to build a great settlement there some day. He had to return to Britain to fight in a war against France, but he came back to Upper Canada in 1801 and made his dream a reality by getting 5,000 acres of land fronting Lake Erie.

His settlement was one of the most successful ever undertaken. By 1831 he had brought 6,000 new citizens to Canada and established them in 29 townships. A distant relative, Richard Talbot, helped him, and sailed for Canada on June 13, 1818, with a large number of immigrants from Ireland. Later they worked with John Galt, and formed the Canada Company which acquired 1,400,000 acres between present day Toronto and Lake Huron where many towns have been established.

The city of St. Thomas is called after Thomas Talbot, but he was no saint. In fact he was very eccentric and books have been written about his activities. He was very strict with his tenants, for their own good, and did everything he could to see that they became successful. However, he would talk to them only at certain hours, and often they would have to deal with him through a window.

He was known as "the hermit of Port Talbot" in his day. He died in London, Ont., in 1833, on the 60th anniversary of his trip with Lieutenant-Governor Simcoe. His body was driven to Port Talbot for burial, unattended except for the driver of the hearse. It was February and the driver stopped at a tavern for some drinks. Then at Fingal the body was left in a barn while the driver spent the night in a hotel. It was a lonely end of the road for one of the greatest colonists in Canadian history.

THOSE STRIKES

Sir: People are getting fed up hearing about labor strikes all the time until it seems these strikers are never satisfied with what they get.

Unions seem to want to run the country, but it can't be done. It has reached the point where they don't seem to care, whether they work or not, or who suffers. They don't think of who, or where the money comes from. All they think about is more pay, shorter hours and longer holidays.

I suggest, for a change, they should consider the company or employer who gives them their employment, and pays them wages and ask themselves truthfully if they would want to change places with their employers, and have lots of strikes to deal with.

My humble opinion is that the one and only way to stop all strikes for all times, which would benefit all concerned, is for our MPs in Ottawa to pass legislation outlawing all strikes for all time.

As an alternative, they could have an impartial commission to decide if all people who strike really earn the money they are getting. I would also suggest picket lines should be classed illegal for workers who want to go to work, who don't agree with the strike, but are forced to leave their jobs.

FAIR PLAY,
Kelowna.

MILK PRICES

Sir: Recently I have had the occasion to buy homogenized milk at centres as far apart as Dawson Creek and Mission City and found the price at both centres 32 cents per quart.

In Kelowna it is 34 cents and Rutland 36.

Could this be a tourist attraction?

Yours sincerely,

Rutland WI Meeting Agenda Includes Flowers And India

RUTLAND — The Rutland Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. A. W. Gray, Black Road, for its regular monthly meeting, with the president Mrs. J. A. Baustad presiding.

The meeting was opened by each member repeating the Mary Stewart collect. Roll was answered by each member giving a gardening hint, and some useful suggestions and tips were received. Mrs. R. E. Gunner, secretary-treasurer, gave the financial report, which showed the group had a good balance.

Free Press Defended

PEACHLAND — The right of the press to print water test results was defended at the last meeting of council here by Ald. George Fletcher and Mayor Harold Thwaite.

Reporting that five recent tests taken showed domestic water to be satisfactory, Ald. George Meldrum questioned whether the figures, which he termed "confidential material" should be released.

He said the last Courier report had said only that tests were unsatisfactory and did not mention only two of five tests were below the required standard.

Ald. Fletcher said the results should have been printed but added the public had a right to know if the water was not up to standard.

Mayor Thwaite said it was his policy never to tell the press what to print and pointed out council sessions in Peachland are open to the public.

Kim Fulton was Vernon's top scorer with two goals and three assists. The Blues are in third place with a win-loss record of 3-5.

WOMEN IN CAMBRIDGE, England (CP) — Clare College, part of Cambridge University, will admit women students in 1972. Founded in 1826, Clare became the third men's college in Cambridge to admit women. The other two are Churchill and Kings.

DROP COLONIALISM LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — President Kenneth Kaunda told a seminar of 150 businessmen that capitalism "smells of colonialism" and must be replaced. He proposed worker ownership of industry and worker participation in management through labor councils.

PETITION PRESENTED

Single-Family Dwellings Ruled For Blue Waters

PEACHLAND — A petition to municipal council here has spurred re-zoning of the Blue Waters district for single family dwellings only.

Under the old zoning regulations multi-family dwellings could have been built where lot size was sufficient.

The petition, allegedly signed by "95 per cent" of residents in Blue Waters, claimed most property owners believed the area already zoned single-family when they purchased lots.

Recently Peachlander Brian O'Hearn withdrew an application to build an apartment in the Blue Waters area when residents registered strong protests.

The development was to be placed on San Clemente Avenue. At the same meeting council granted permission for M. L. Freeman of Elliot Avenue to operate a reinforced plastic manufacturing plant on his property but did not change the zoning.

Council approved Mr. Freeman's bid for a manufacturing plant by awarding a special permit which can be withdrawn with two years' written notice.

Mayor Harold Thwaite said he had interviewed residents in the area and found no objections to a plant on Mr. Freeman's land.

He added, however, with changes occurring so rapidly in Peachland, council could not foresee what affects on the area would take place if it was zoned commercial.

In other council business, Desert Pines property owner Deitar Oberoff complained his water pressure was low and access road not up to municipal standards.

A spokesman for Chippendale Construction Ltd., subdividers, explained illness and inability to his contractors in recent weeks has prevented repairs to the road, damaged earlier in the spring.

The spokesman said the main break-up on the road serving Mr. Oberoff's house occurred when it was soft and being used by heavy trucks carrying materials.

He assured council contractors will be at work and bring the road up to standard within the next two weeks.

Answering the water complaint he said a small auxiliary pump has been installed which should bring pressure up to an adequate level.

Council asked why a main pump, agreed to at the time of subdividing, had not been installed and the spokesman said it had not been required for the first few houses.

The pump is ready now but cannot be installed without department of highways permission for placement of the pump house.

In other municipal council business, agreed to meet with the Peachland and district chamber of commerce parking committee in municipal chambers.

Robert Braucht, chamber president, said some "bad spots" in the community had yet to be cleaned and the chamber cleanup committee would attend to it before tourist season officially starts.

Approved surveyor plans for Otto Lucius' subdivision of one piece of property into two lots.

Tabled a subdivision plan submitted by Werner Schneppenheimer for three lots because some of lots could not be approved until plans of adjoining property were submitted.

Approved bylaws authorizing renting or leasing of the breakwater by the municipality for a three year term for $1 per annum and 15 per cent of all revenue derived from the breakwater.

Gave final reading to a bylaw authorizing stopping up and closing of a portion of Sixth Street and a portion of the lane between Fifth and Sixth Streets.

REPAIRS TO COMMUNITY POOL SLATED TO START THIS WEEK

RUTLAND — Clarence Mallach, president of the Rutland Parks and Recreation Commission reports plans completed for the renovation of the pool to meet the required standards. Tenders were received for the renovation from several companies, and the contract was awarded to Valley Swimming Pool Contractors. Work will start this week and the pool should be ready for use in two weeks.

The recreation commission will now accept applications for life guards and swimming instructors. Registration dates and rates will be announced next week.

Horseshoes Clanking On Iron Heard More Often In Rutland

RUTLAND — The clink of horseshoes against iron pegs has long been a sound associated with Rutland's annual sports day, but now the sound will be heard more frequently.

Added to the list of many organizations in the community is now the Rutland Horseshoe Club with twice-weekly sessions in the Centennial Park, Wednesday and Sunday evenings.

The dues were set at a modest $2 per annum, and players from 18 to 80 can participate.

Horseshoe pitching is a highly popular sport throughout the U.S.A. and Canada.

Canadian championships are to be held in Manitoba this year, as part of Centennial celebrations.

Dauphin is hosting the contests in its indoor arena. In addition to the Rutland club there are at least two others in the southern interior, at Canoe and Penticton.

There is a tournament at Canoe today and 12 local players are participating.

EASY DOES IT

These children of Sunnyvale School are participating in a physical education display, conducted by Mrs. Gwen Holland. The lack of an activity room in the school necessitates the PE session being carried on in the school yard. The PE program is designed to improve the performance of each child not only in the gymnasium and on the playground but at home, in the classroom and eventually on the job. The pupils are learning to use their bodies by discovering all the actions the body can make in relation to mats, hoops, balls and ropes. The regular physical education sessions at the school are augmented with bowling and skating. For a number of years Mrs. Holland has been volunteering her services in this area and again this term she has taken time off from her busy schedule to help at Sunnyvale School. Above, Ald. Holland on the right is assisted by Mrs. Denis McCarthy of the Sunnyvale staff.

Mini Skirts Scarce In Prague Czechs Like Beaded Hems

PRAGUE (CP) — Mini-skirts aren't plentiful in the streets of this lovely Czechoslovak capital, and the women don't seem to be fashion-conscious at all—whether for political reasons or otherwise.

Livia Roubickova, a designer with the state-owned Institute of Interior and Fashion Design, says that women over 40 in the Communist world just aren't interested enough in themselves, not even to the extent of using make-up.

Certainly this lack of fashion interest among the older women isn't the fault of the institute, which North American fashion writers would consider as avant garde as any in the world. Its designers are allowed to go to Paris and London to study the latest trends, even though the Communist higher-ups don't encourage their citizens to travel abroad.

REPORT LACKING
The trouble seems to be a lack of rapport between the designers and the foundry type of dress production at the manufacturing level. The institute has a team of six designers—one is a man—who create the Prague collections but then must submit them to the state-owned manufacturing industry for production.

But the catch is that the manufacturers can alter the designs to more-conservative styling, which the designers find frustrating.

The largest manufacturer is Great National Enterprises in northern Moravia, producing women's coats, dresses and costumes. There's another factory for women's clothes, and for children's, in Prague itself. The other seven factories are scattered in Moravia and Slovakia.

The institute designers are already working on spring, 1971, in order to give the manufacturers plenty of time for production. Asked about the collection and will have more for fall, but less than 20 per cent. Colors for spring, 1971, will include the usual classic marine blue and white, as well as pale lilac, caramel, pastel turquoise and coral. This fall they like aubergine, olive and black.

Only domestic fabrics are used in the collections since this will be the fabric most used by the manufacturers. But imported fabrics can be bought in the stores by the designers in the larger cities.

STRONG ON COCKTAILS
The 1970 spring-summer collection includes a smart pants-and-mid-thigh-jacket with a quilted border. An amusing linen beach dress has a kangaroo pocket under an apron effect. Oddly, the collection was strong on cocktail and late-day dresses, since the demand for these would be fairly limited, except in Prague itself.

One short ruby red velvet was trimmed with matching ostrich feathers, a popular spring touch in New York. Many of the gowns were heavily beaded and ornamented, since this is a specialty of Czechoslovakia, and much of the beading can be bought by the yard—a good buy for tourists.

One floor-length gown had four rows of the hemline in beading and copper drop leaves. A sleeveless short dress had a beaded neckline and a double row of bugle beads and pearls around a front apron effect.

Shower Honors Bernice Brandel
A surprise trousseau shower was held for Bernice Brandel at the home of Mrs. J. Wagner. Corsages were presented to the bride elect, future mother-in-law, Mrs. W. C. Dionne and to Mrs. M. J. Brandel.

Games were played, presents were then opened by the bride-to-be, assisted by the maid-of-honor, Jeannie Rozycski and one of the bridesmaids, Dawn Thorpe. Beautiful gifts were received.

A lovely lunch was served by the two hostesses, Mrs. J. Wagner and Mrs. Carol Dunbar. An enjoyable evening was had by all. The wedding will be July 4.

STRAWBERRY CUSTARD
4 eggs, separated
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup hot milk
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla extract
1 teaspoon brandy extract
1/2 teaspoon ground mace
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 pint strawberries, washed, capped and sliced.
Beat egg yolks until light and lemon colored. Beat in 1/2 cup sugar. Gradually stir in milk. Stir and cook in the top of a double boiler 15 minutes or until custard thickens. Remove from heat and stir in next three ingredients. Cool thoroughly.
Beat egg whites until they stand in soft-stiff peaks. Gradually beat in remaining 1/2 cup sugar; beat until stiff but not dry. Fold in whipped cream. Fold in cold custard together with sliced berries.
Serve immediately in tall parfait glasses or champagne glasses. Top each with a whole berry.
Serves 8.

QUEENIE

Dear Ann Landers: I am very hurt and I need your help. A card club I have belonged to for five years was disbanded last month. I couldn't understand why. I heard yesterday that the club is now meeting again and they have asked someone in my place. The reason: They resented my husband. Since his retirement he has been kibitzing the game when the women played at our home. I didn't realize the women didn't like to have him around. The truth is, he has no interests now other than mine. I hate to admit it, but he has been getting on my nerves, too. What should I do?—Fort Lauderdale.

Dear Fort: More women are writing about this problem now than ever before. I urge you all to make every effort to get your retired husbands involved in activities that will take them away from the house. Florida has some good Golden Age Clubs. There are volunteer jobs to be done. Investigate. Look in the phone book under Organizations. Check them out with the Chamber of Commerce. Don't let his retirement ruin your life.

Dear Ann Landers: I think I'm the "divorcee" that Lansing mother is worried about. Only I am not a divorcee. My husband was killed in Vietnam. The mother is concerned because her 16-year-old son is spending too much time over here. You told her not to get hysterical—and to have a low-key chat with the boy. I don't agree with your advice, Ann.

The trouble with that mother is she has done too much "chattering" and not enough listening. The boy comes over to my house because he needs someone to talk to. It's pathetic the way he pours out his heart to me. It's obvious nobody else will give him a chance to talk.

She doesn't need to worry about him sowing any wild oats over here. I am his "mother

Bridge Club Resumes Series

Visitors welcomed to the Kelowna Bridge Club were Mrs. J. E. Hinks, Kelowna and Hugh Walter of Vancouver.

In the "Beat the Champ" event Mr. and Mrs. W. T. L. Roadhouse were the successful challengers with the overall top score of the session.

On June 17 the second session of the "Summer Series" will be held at St. David's Church Hall at the corner of Pandosy and Sutherland at 7:30 p.m.

PLAY RESULTS: 16 tables Mitchell, N/S—1. Mrs. C. W. Wilkinson and Gordon Harper; 2. Dr. W. G. Evans and John Ruhl; 3. Mrs. J. D. McClymont and A. G. Hampson; 4. Mr. and Mrs. V. N. Andreev; 5. Mrs. Pearl Forsyth and Robert Stewart; 6. Mrs. J. H. Fisher and Mrs. H. B. Sullivan. E/W—1. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. L. Roadhouse; 2. Hugh Walter and Joseph Rossetti; 3. Mrs. L. E. Cantell and Mrs. W. J. Easterbrook; 4. Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Crosby; 5. Mrs. Michael Fredrickson and B. A. McKee; 6. Alan Neid and Arthur Ling.

Lions' Ladies Hold Windup
The summer windup meeting of the Lions' Ladies club took place on Monday night. A social hour took place at the home of Mrs. Peter Jones-Evans on Pinecrest Lane, after which the 34 members present adjourned to the Kelowna Golf and Country Club and thoroughly enjoyed a delicious smorgasbord supper.

After supper the president, Mrs. Elmer Drydahl called a short business meeting. Later 14 members went to Meridian Lanes for two games of bowling.

Prizes were won by Mrs. William Polzer for top score; hidden scores by Mrs. Darrel Taves and Mrs. Hugh Fox and the final prize was won by Mrs. Fred Demofsky playing her very first game.

The other members gathered at the home of Mrs. E. L. Adams to play bingo. At the end of the evening all the members enjoyed refreshments together. The next meeting will take place in September.

HERE TO STAY
LONDON (AP) — Pantyhose will not go out with the miniskirts in Britain, a survey indicates. The Britain Consumer Council's magazine Focus said a recent London poll showed 96 per cent of women under age 35 will stick with pantyhose whatever happens.

SHOE SHORTAGE
WOLVERHAMPTON, Eng. (AP) — Women with large feet have written to Renee Short, a Staffordshire MP, complaining about manufacturers' limited selection of large shoes. Mrs. Short, who wears size 8½, says: "The manufacturers don't give a damn about people with large feet."

MYSTERIOUS MUSIC
LOWESTOFT, England (CP) — As Raza Tegerdine played the popular song Boom Bang-a-Bang on her piano, there was an explosion which left the piano warped and splintered. Suffolk police commented later that she had been a victim of one of a number of mystery explosions in the town, possibly from sonic booms.

LOSES FOOD BILL
MILAN (AP) — Antonio Nicita learned that his elder daughter's fiancé of five years was already married, and sued for $4,385. He said that would just about cover the cost of the food Fulvio Orestes had eaten at the family board and for his own daughter's labor as the owner's stenographer. The court denied the claim but ordered Orestes to pay $128 in costs.

Marriage Unites Pioneer Families

WESTBANK (Special) — Two pioneer families were united by marriage on Saturday, June 6, when Elizabeth Frances (Betty) Davidson of Vancouver, became the bride of David H. Basham, at a quiet ceremony in Vancouver. The bride's grandparents came to the west-side area in 1892, where her grandfather gave Westbank its name, and here her father grew up, marrying Esther Thomson of Salmon Valley, a member of another pioneer family. The groom's parents, originally from England, came to Westbank in 1911. The 7 p.m. rites for the daughter of Mrs. Allan H. Davidson and the late Mr. Davidson, and the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Basham, were solemnized in The Little Chapel, St. John's United Church, the Rev. R. Stobie officiating.

Given in marriage by Jack Sullivan of North Burnaby, who also acted as groomsman, the bride chose a street-length dress of white crepe fashioned with a lace yoke, A-line skirt and matching lace coat with bracelet-length sleeves. With this she wore a hat of white crepe petals with tulle veil and carried a colonial bouquet of deep red rosebuds and white miniature mums.

Attending her as matron-of-honor was a sister of the groom, Mrs. Jack Sullivan, gowned in a dress of lemon-yellow crepe fashioned with push-up sleeves and A-line skirt, while her headpiece and corsage were of rosebuds on tulle.

On their return from a honeymoon being spent motoring south of the border, Mr. and Mrs. Basham will make their home in Westbank.

Volunteer Bureau Seeks Men And Women For Summer Programs

The Kelowna and District Information Services and Volunteer Bureau is appealing urgently for volunteers to carry on volunteer programs during the summer months.

Both male and female volunteers are needed. Men, if you can spare a few hours now and then to cut a lawn for a shut-in or handicapped person or some other little chore please phone the bureau at 762-3608.

Women with stenographic experience of bookkeeping talents are also needed desperately to lend a hand with office work in volunteer organizations.

If you are interested in helping these agencies, please contact the Bureau this week, as the bureau closes at the end of June and is most anxious to fill these needs before time runs out.

Kelowna Couple United In Double Ring Ceremony

Rev. Robert E. H. Scates officiated at the double-ring ceremony on June 6 which united in marriage Carol Lynn Allan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon C. Allan and Larry Vincent McKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Silvester A. McKenzie of Kelowna in First United Church at 4 p.m.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride was lovely in traditional white floor length gown of antrone organza over peau d'elephant lace. The full bishop sleeves were also banded with lace as were the long cuffs. A froth of illusion veiling edged with matching applique lace flowed from a Spanish mantilla of the delicate lace to form a lengthy train. She carried a dainty cascade of pink Flair roses, white freesias and ivy, enhanced by a matching pink bow and streamers. Her only jewelry was a gold locket.

The maid-of-honor was Susan Allan, a younger sister, with the junior bridesmaid, youngest sister of the bride and flower girl, Dana Rothenburger, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rothenburger of Kelowna.

All were attired in identical floor-length A-line gowns of embroidered pink tulle and cotton sheer crepe, featuring scoop necklines, raised waistlines, short sleeves, with the lines of embroidery accented by a row of small buttons fastening the front opening. Adding to the old-fashioned theme were their high crowned broad brimmed white straw hats, bows and streamers of the matching dress material.

Each carried a shallow basket filled with white chrysanthemums, the handles tied with twin bows of white satin ribbon. The flower girl and junior bridesmaid wore dainty lockets and the maid-of-honor wore a charm bracelet, gifts of the bride.

Attending the groom was his twin brother, Gary, while the ushers were Eugene Fischer of Prince George and Douglas McArthur, all attired in white dinner jackets and cummerbunds, black bow ties, accented by a single red rose boutonniere.

One hundred and fifty guests attended the reception held at the Centennial hall, Kelowna, where the bride's mother received wearing a sparkling green coat-dress ensemble with white accessories matched by a corsage of white carnations.

She was assisted by the groom's mother, who chose a blue coat-dress ensemble, accented by a white flowered hat and other accessories of white and a white carnation corsage.

The bride's table was covered by a white lace tablecloth, centred by a three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with delicate pink roses and silver leaves, white doves holding silver rings, topped by three bells. White tapers in silver candle holders flanked the cake and arrangements of white and yellow mums and the bridal baskets of flowers completed the table decor.

Preceding the dinner prepared by members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion, grace was said by Gary McKenzie. The toast to the bride was given by Arthur H. Burch, a long time family friend. The toast to the bridesmaids and flower girl was given by Gary McKenzie. Following the toasts, the bride and groom served the wedding cake to the guests.

Crafts Centre And Workshop In Former Canning Factory

LAKE, Ont. (CP) — Inside a large mellowed-brick former canning factory in this historic town is evolving a crafts centre and workshop unique in this area and possibly in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Thalmann, the Swiss-born operators of Crafts Centre Industries, have a three-fold purpose in mind for the new venture which is due to open soon.

Involvement is the aim, they say.

"We are trying to create an outlet for serious arts and crafts people who haven't had an outlet so far or have been disappointed by too high a markup," says Mr. Thalmann.

"We are creating an outlet for them, for others and for ourselves."

Their aim is to revive old crafts like pottery and weaving and provide a market for examples of these crafts which are distinguished by craftsmanship and artistry. They are also interested in paintings and have already been in touch with two artists noted in the area for their work depicting vanishing landmarks of the Niagara Peninsula.

One of the artists, George Balbar of St. Catharines, has also designed a series of notes using sketches of old Niagara buildings.

Wood carvings, glassware, scissor-cut silhouettes, candle making, dried flower arrangements, quilting and rug making will also be added to the showroom.

In addition to the work being displayed and sold in the showroom of the old converted canning factory, the public will be able to look behind the scenes and watch impromptu demonstrations of the crafts.

The Thalmanns, who were associated with a similar type of venture at Upper Canada Village before coming to Niagara several years ago, are planning to provide studio space for artists to work undisturbed on the third floor of the building.

Festival Of Roses Is Theme For Installation Of Job's

Frances Hawkey was installed as Honored Queen of the International Order of Job's Daughters Bethel No. 25, Kelowna on June 6 at St. George's Masonic hall.

Jeanette LeBeau, a Kelowna Secondary School student, was installed as Senior Princess and Barbara Bailey, also a KSS student, was installed as Junior Princess.

The 'rose festival' was the theme chosen by the incoming queen and each Bethel member carried a red rose to be placed on a cross in the Bethel. The three points of the cross were marked by white roses carried by the three top officers.

Retiring Queen, Christine Hamilton acted as installing officer and was ably assisted by an installing team: Guide, Mrs. Forbes McKay, No. 25; Marshall, Lynda Hay; recorder, Corrine Marshall; chaplain, Christine Sutherland; narrator, Mrs. Richard Aitzy; senior custodian, Brenda Griffin; and junior custodian, Andrea Little; flag bearer, Elizabeth Reed; organist, Mrs. A. E. Telman and solist, Jo-Ann MacCormack. Elected officers for the ensuing six month terms are: Honored Queen, Frances Hawkey; senior princess, Jeanette LeBeau; Junior princess, Barbara Bailey; guide, Brenda Newton and Marshall, Susan Plumptre.

Appointed officers installed were: chaplain, Barbara Moisey; treasurer, Myra LeBeau; recorder, Sally Evans; musician, Debbie Moore; librarian, Kyna Jones-Evans; 1st messenger, Susan Beagle; 2nd messenger, Sheila Marshall; 3rd messenger, Nancy Sager; 4th messenger, Terry Ormiston; 5th messenger, Jane Ford; senior custodian, Dalene Mann, junior custodian, Patricia Stephens; inner guard, Margot Newton; outer guard, Judy Bates; assistant recorder, Linda Hunter and flag bearer, Linda Young.

AWARDS

Following the installation ceremony, Past Honored Queen, Christine Hamilton presented the bronze, silver and gold pins to Debbie Moore, Susan Beagle and Sheila Marshall respectively for being the three girls most deserving of recognition for their work in the order.

Bethel Guardian, Mrs. Herbert Dugway, presented the merit cup to Sally Evans for her accomplishments as best all around Jobite for the past term.

Associate guardian, Charles Hamilton presented his daughter, Christine with her past honored Queen's pin and complimented her on her excellent term of office.

Honored Queen Frances Hawkey was then presented with a small white bible by her parents to commemorate her installation.

Among the guests introduced in the Bethel were the honored queen's five brothers, four of whom travelled to Kelowna with their wives for the occasion. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hawkey, of Tofino; Mr. and Mrs. Noel Hawkey of Williams Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Alec Hawkey and Jack Hawkey of Kamloops and David at home.

Refreshments were served downstairs later where the Honored Queen cut and served her cake to the guests.

Do's And Don'ts To Baby Skin

By EMILY WILKENS

Is there a girl in all the world who doesn't yearn for baby-soft skin? Unless you have a problem complexion, it's essential to "nourish" your face with an emollient.

If you think all you have to do is slap on some cream daily and that's that, think again. There is a precise method for applying lubrication to insure not only a lovely, smooth complexion, but a wrinkle-free countenance as well.

Follow these DO's and DON'T'S to approximate a professional technique, either morning or night.

DON'T attempt to use stiff cream on a cool skin especially in the morning when your face hasn't had a chance to "warm up." Instead, work with any unsaturated oil—it gets going instantly. Choose from corn, soy, sesame, safflower, sunflower, peanut, apricot kernel, even olive. In a pinch call on mayonnaise since it's made from oil and eggs. Even butter and margarine have been known to do the job since they melt quickly.

DO warm up your face if you prefer cream. This is easily accomplished by holding a hot wash cloth to the skin. Or splash with hot water (count 24 splashes), wearing rubber gloves to protect hands. You can always cream by applying a blob of it to the back of your hand and working from there, or placing some between fingers and massaging hands together.

DON'T expect your entire face to require the same amount of "nourishment." In fact, should your nose or chin tend to break out, avoid using any lubrication on those areas—blackheads and blemishes are just waiting to drink up the emollient.

DO block off such blemish-prone areas so no lubrication even creeps through in this simple routine. Pour off most of the water from milk of magnesia (mint-flavored is cooling).

Cover problem spots thickly with the white sediment left in the bottle.

DON'T add to the aging down-pull of gravity. DO work UP, UP, UP with your cream or oil, advancing upward in a circular motion. DON'T forget the ear area—those little crinkles in front of the ear can easily become wrinkles if neglected. Another point to emphasize is the mouth—using your index fingers work round and round, back and forth over the upper lip to iron out those creases that threaten to get bigger. Smile while you work—it helps!

DO follow your "face-feeding" session with a 15 minute rest in the Beauty Angle. This feet-higher-than-head (12-15 inches) position stimulates circulation and makes your facial treatment most effective. Chilled witch hazel or weak tea compresses on your eyes will give them a relaxing break as well.

DON'T be concerned about blotting off excess oil after ten or fifteen minutes—that's all it takes for an emollient to do its job. Then go over your face lightly with an ice cube wrapped in a hankie that's been soaked in chilled witch hazel. This is especially effective in the morning, before applying make-up.

Hi Alpha Sigma Chapter Chartered By Beta Sigma Phi

An official ceremony conducted by Mrs. C. R. Johnston and Mrs. Ken Kirtley on Monday evening, marked the beginning of a new chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in Kelowna. Mrs. L. F. French, Mrs. Henry Hanson, Mrs. Ken Kellough and Mrs. Fred Gerlinger received their Exemplar Degrees and became charter members of the Hi Alpha Sigma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

The Exemplar Ritual is conferred on members who have completed the four year program in a Ritual of Jewels chapter. Following the candlelight ceremony at the home of Mrs. Ken Kellough, a short business meeting was held and refreshments were served. Discussion centered around plans for rushing new members in the fall.

Draft Choice Brings Bucks

By LOERNE WHITE

The Kelowna Buckaroos of the B.C. Junior Hockey League, may be as much as $10,000 richer as a result of the National Hockey League's annual amateur draft Thursday.

Picked up in the second round as the 15th draft choice, and second by Buffalo, was Butch Deadmarsh, who played two years of junior hockey in Kelowna for the Buckaroos.

The latest ratification of the pro-amateur agreement between the NHL and the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, now has the pro-claiming club pay $3,000 to draft, an additional $3,000 when the player signs a pro contract and a possible $4,000 if the newcomer performs in 25 NHL games in the coming season.

Although Deadmarsh, a native of Trail, B.C., played two of his last three junior years in Brandon of the Western Canada Hockey League, the proceeds may go exclusively to the CABA member Buckaroos, depending on the success of the WCHL's appeal in court.

DEADMARSH CAME TO THE BUCKAROOS from the Kootenays in 1966, at age 16, that season taking the rookie of the year honors.

During his two-year stint, he was among the top point getters for the locals, and twice was instrumental in getting the Buckaroos into the playoffs.

This season, while with the Wheat Kings, the scrappy right winger assembled more than 300 minutes in penalties, and was selected to the WCHL's all-star team.

Three other former BCJHL players were selected in this year's draft.

Randy Rota, now of Calgary, voted the most sportsmanlike and efficient player of the outflow loop, was a second round choice of the Oakland Seals. Rota played for the Kamloops Rockets and during the 1967-68 season, was fourth in the BCJHL scoring with 45 goals and 28 assists for 73 points.

Jack Taggart, a native of Penticton, and a player with the Broncos for two years, had the honor of being the record 85th player to be drafted, when Vancouver picked him up in the seventh round.

TAGGART, AN ALL-STAR DEFENCEMAN in the now defunct Okanagan Junior Hockey League, played with the University of Denver this season, after trials with Canada's National team.

Another former Bronco, Ed Hayes, was also picked up in the seventh round. The U. of D. forward, and scoring champion in the BCJHL during the 1968-69 season, was selected by Detroit.

Earlier in the week, another former B.C. junior hockey player, Garth Rizzuto of Rossland, who played with the Buckaroos during the 1964-65 season, was picked up by Vancouver Canucks in the NHL's expansion draft.

Rizzuto, who led the Bucks to the B.C. Junior finals against New Westminster Royals, has played the past two seasons with the Dallas Black Hawks, and last fall was one of Chicago's final cuts from camp.

The chunky left winger was a member of the 1968-69 Central Pro league champions, and with the fifth place finishers this season, was one of only three 20-goal scorers with the Black Hawks.

QUICK QUIPS: Gene Carr, rookie of the year in the WCHL this season, should be one of the top draft choices next season, and is already referring to himself as "my right winger".

Dale Talton, drafted by Vancouver may turn down a pro hockey contract for a golf scholarship. . . . Rumors have it that the Kelowna Buckaroo franchise has already received a $6,000 cheque from Saskatoon. . . . While the Vancouver Canucks got 37 NHL goals for their $6,000,000 the Buffalo Sabres received more than 60. . . . Jackie McLeod, former coach of Canada's National Hockey team, slipped through Kelowna this week, and thumbed rumors that he would be coaching the Buckaroos this season. . . . Joe Watson, defenceman for the Philadelphia Flyers, and now playing baseball for the Kamloops Okonots, said last week that either he or Ed Van Impe would be traded for some badly needed scoring punch.

SENIOR B SOFTBALL

Three New Faces Join Top 10 List

For the first time this season in Kelowna and District Senior B softball, all five teams are represented in the top ten batting list.

During the past week, three players have joined the elite for the first time members of the last place Kelowna Labatts, and one from third standing Vernon Kai-Hotel.

From the Labs Murray Spanier, who joined the club after missing the first week of action, finally moved into eligibility for the batting crown, sporting a .314 average, although batting at a .250 pace this week.

Keith Rolston of the Kals, the home run leader, with seven collected four hits on seven trips to the plate this week, and too slipped into the list with a .304 average.

Labs' playing coach Jack Leier, has presumably found his old form and last week went four for nine at .250, to raise his average from .225 to a respectable .306.

HORNING HEADS LIST Wayne Horning of the Royal Anne Royals, heads the list of elite, with a .408 average and leads the league with the most hits, getting 20 on 49 trips to the plate.

The first place Royals have players holding down the second and third place spots, with Ian Angus batting at a .352 clip, and teammate Bill Andrews hitting at the .343 mark.

Angus is second to Don Schneider with 16 runs scored, and leads, along with teammate Joe Fisher in the runs-batted-in category, with 14.

Schneider of the Royals, and Adrian Reiger of the Willow Inn Willows are the only members of their respective clubs to break the .300 mark with Schneider coming in with a .333 average and Reiger, although going one for seven during the past week, still hitting at a .325 pace.

Nick Bulach of the Royals and the Labs' Jim Elko round out the top ten with .304 and .300 averages respectively.

Dave Kroschinsky with a .321

win over the Labatts Tuesday in Rutland, boosted his pitching record to a 4-0 mark, after five starts this season, to lead all chuckers in that category.

Gib Loseth, who struck out 10 of 14 batters he faced Monday against the Willows, leads in the strikeout department with 59, ten more than teammate Rick Kraushaar. Loseth also is sporting a 4-1 record.

In the league standings the Royals are holding down first place, two points ahead of the Rovers, who have a game in hand over the league leaders.

Vernon, with their win over the Royals Wednesday, pulled over the .500 mark, winning their eighth game in 15 starts, staying four points ahead of fourth place Willows. The Labs trail the loop with just two wins in 14 games.

Senior B action resumes Sunday with the Rovers playing host to Vernon at 6:30 p.m. at Rutland Centennial Park.

Royer Takes Four Stroke Lead Shares Attention At Western

CHICAGO (AP) — Hugh Royer, who nearly gave up the game, and Arnold Palmer, who owes his millionaire status to golf, share most of the attention as the $130,000 Western open golf tournament moved into its third round today.

Royer, 33, of Columbus, Ga., Friday recorded a six-under-par 65 for a two-round total of 132 and a four-stroke lead over Palmer and Bobby Nichols.

Palmer, seeking his first 1970 victory, was the only leader affected by a late-afternoon wind and rain storm which halted play for 80 minutes.

Palmer had to quit after hurriedly three-putting the 15th hole and wound up with a 69. Palmer and Nichols, who also carded 69, had a 36-hole totals of 136.

Vancouver's Wayne Vollmer, one of two Canadians entered, managed to qualify for the final two rounds by one stroke. He shot a two-over-par 73 Friday to go along with Thursday's even-par 71 for a two-round total of 144.

KERN MISSES OUT Ben Kern of Toronto was five-over-par 76 Friday, missing the cut with a two-round score of 151.

Steve Reid led by a stroke after a first-round 66, but Friday blew to a 77 for 143. Reid is one stroke behind Jack Nicklaus, who is tied with six others 10 strokes off the pace.

Palmer three-putted the 15th and 17th holes and missed birdie puts of 12 and four feet on 16 and 18 in his round, which included a 20-foot eagle putt on the second hole.

Bunched at 137, five strokes behind Royer, were Johnny Pott, Tom Weiskopf, Don Bies, D. W. Finsterwald and Tom Shaw.

Gurney Joins McLaren Team MOSPORT, Ont. (CP) — Dan Gurney of Costa Mesa, Calif., joined the McLaren auto racing team Friday as practice opened for Sunday's race for Group 7 sport-racing cars, the first in the $1,000,000 Canadian-American Challenge Cup series.

Gurney, 37, replaces builder-driver Bruce McLaren, who was killed in England two weeks ago while test driving.

Gurney and team-mate Denis Hulme of New Zealand drove the new McLaren M8D cars Friday. Hulme, despite severely burned hands suffered in a practice run last month for the Indianapolis 500 race, ran the 2.5-mile lap in one minute, 19.6 seconds, cutting one-tenth of a second off the record for Group 7 cars, set at last year's Mosport Can-Am race by McLaren.

Jack Brabham of Australia and Jackie Ickx of Belgium share the official record of 1:18.1.

Peter Gregg of Jacksonville, Fla., was taken to hospital at nearby Oshawa, when his Lola T-165 was demolished in a practice run. The car went out of control and came to rest in bushes. Gregg suffered a bruised chest, cuts and suspected whiplash.

The loss of Gregg reduces Sunday's field to 31 cars.

An official's ruling Friday placed the AVS Shadow III into the doubtful-starter category.

A race scrutineer told California's Don Nichols of AVS Shadow Co. that the rear-mounted air spoiler wing on his car does not conform to regulations.

Carls Travel To Kootenays

The streaking Kelowna Carlings, riding the crest of an eight game winning surge which has vaulted them into a commanding 4½ game lead atop the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League standings, travel to the Kootenays this weekend where they will play three games in two days.

The busy schedule, one of the new innovations the OMBL has adopted for the 1970 season with the interlocking West Kootenay Baseball League, has the Carlings in Trail tonight, then in both Rossland (at noon) and Grand Forks (at 4 p.m.) Sunday.

Kelowna's ace thrower Mike Burdette, in quest of his seventh straight win, will pitch tonight's encounter against the Trail Silver Kings.

Which stopped the Carlings on their trip through the Okanagan early in the season.

Len Tweed, the team's regular centerfielder, is scheduled to throw against the Rossland Capitanos, the leading club in the Kootenay circuit, while Glen Harkey, who pitched a brilliant one-hit shutout against Penticton Wednesday, will oppose the Grand Forks Mets, a team comprised primarily of the squad which captured the 1969 B.C. Junior baseball championships. Both Harkey and Tweed own 2-0 records.

Kelowna returns home Tuesday to host the much improved Kamloops Okonots, who have reeled off three successive wins, and who will in all probability throw their brilliant new pitching acquisition, Bob Bridges, against the Carlings. Bridges, the six foot, three inch left-hander from Washington State University, has already won two low hit games after being acquired by the club just last week.

WORLD CUP SOCCER

Conservative Soccer Play Ended For Eight Teams

MEXICO CITY (CP-AP) — The time for conservative soccer has ended for the eight survivors of World Cup round-robin play.

Now it's sudden-death, starting with the four quarter-final matches Sunday.

In the two-day gap between conclusion of group play and the start of the quarter-finals, the teams of Russia, Mexico, Italy, Uruguay, Brazil, West Germany, Peru and England variously celebrated their victories, calmed their nerves or sought to correct errors and build desire, according to the various national temperaments.

Mexican fans created scenes of pandemonium after their national squad tied the Soviet Union at the head of Group I in round-robin play. The celebration after the team's 1-0 victory over Belgium Thursday went on for a dozen hours, leading to the death of one person and injuries to more than 70, mostly by falls from moving cars and buses which paraded through the streets, overturned with passengers.

RUSSIA WINS DRAW These same Mexican revellers were stunned Friday when Russia won the draw to decide which of the teams, tied not only in points but in goal spread, would play Sunday in this city's huge Aztec Stadium.

It was almost cause for national mourning when World Cup officials announced that Mexico would have to play Italy in Toluca. The modest Toluca stadium holds only 32,000, and that size crowd can't produce the kind of vociferous team support that 112,000 did Thursday in Aztec Stadium.

The International Football Federation—FIFA—rejected a request by the Mexican Football Federation to play the Mexico-Italy game Monday in the huge stadium here, without disrupting the remainder of the schedule.

The quarter-final pairings are:

In Mexico City: Soviet Union vs. Uruguay.

In Toluca: Italy vs. Mexico.

In Guadalajara: Brazil vs. Peru.

In Leon: West Germany vs. England.

Seventeen sports writers polled by The Associated Press picked Brazil, West Germany, Italy and the Soviet Union to advance to the semi-finals.

These sudden-death matches will be refereed, respectively, by a Dutchman, an Israeli, a Belgian and an Argentine. None of their countries has a team in competition.

Decisions by the referees—all amateurs who collect only $25 a day in expenses—are of tremendous importance to players seeking the Jules Rimet Trophy, the biggest prize in professional soccer. For that reason many players and commentators have been demanding that soccer establish a new breed of professional referees to handle the game's highly-paid and temperamental stars.

In three matches Thursday, crucial decisions by referees were challenged. England and Mexico scored 1-0 victories on hotly-contested penalty calls.

Italy, held to a scoreless tie by Israel, protested that at least one and possibly two goals, disallowed for offside, should have counted.

Many of the eight survivors of the 16 teams that started out here have yet to show their true ability. They played without taking risks, concentrating on defensive soccer in order to avoid surprise losses and keep their goal averages in good shape. Strategy was based more on the calculated possibility of qualifying for the quarter-finals than on putting on a good show.

Now it's win or else. If teams are tied after extra time in games prior to the June 21 final, the winner will be decided by drawing a name. In the final, if the teams finish in a tie the game will be replayed June 23.

SENIOR C SOFTBALL

Valley Ready Mix broke a 5-5 tie by pushing across a single run in the eighth inning to record a 6-5 victory over Huskys in a Senior C softball game Thursday at Robertson Park.

Glen Blyk, the third Ready Mix pitcher, picked up the victory after coming on in relief of Lawrence Boychuck, who had struck out 10 in four innings, in the seventh.

Brewers Win On 18th Try Russ Plays Leading Role

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The road company of Milwaukee Brewers, with Russ Snyder in the leading role, finally put on a hit Friday night after 17 consecutive flops.

Snyder walloped a grand-slam home run in the eighth inning, after Cleveland pitcher Rich Hand issued three walks with two outs. The Brewers posted a 4-1 American League victory over the Indians for their first triumph away from home in 18 games.

Elsewhere Friday, Minnesota Twins trimmed Boston Red Sox 5-2, California Angels downed Detroit Tigers 5-2, Oakland Athletics tripped Baltimore Orioles 4-2 in 11 innings. New York Yankees blanked Kansas City Royals 5-0 and Chicago White Sox whipped Washington Senators 6-0 on Tommy John's two-hitter.

Milwaukee and Cleveland were locked in a scoreless struggle until Hand walked Gus Gil, pitcher Marty Pattin and Tommy Harper and Snyder belted his third home run of the season in the eighth inning. The Indians scored off Pattin in the eighth on a walk, a wild pitch and Eddie Leon's single.

The Brewers, a respectable 12-15 at home, had lost 24 of 29 road games, including all 10 in May, and hadn't won away from home since a 5-3 victory in Boston April 26.

The Red Sox, 20-8 in Boston, lost for the 19th time in 25 road contests as Ron Fernald's reliever in the seventh to strike out Mike Andrews with two on base and two out. The left-hander picked up his 14th save.

Winner Jim Perry singled home the first run of the game in the second inning. Brant Aleya and Leo Cardenas doubled runs across in the fifth. The Twins wrapped it up in the eighth on run-scoring hits by George Mitterwald and Rod Carew. Tom Satriano homered for the Red Sox.

The Angels remained 2 1/2 games behind Minnesota in the West Division as Jim Fregosi hit two homers and Billy Cowan off Tigers' starter John Hiller. Detroit's Bill Freehan homered off winner Andy Messersmith, who scattered seven hits.

EAST RACE TIGHTENS
The East Division race, which once looked like a runaway for Baltimore, tightened as the Orioles lost and the Yankees won to pull within four games of the leading Orioles.

The Athletics and Orioles went to the 11th inning tied 2-2 on solo homers by Campy Campaneris and Rick Monday in the first for Oakland Clay Dalrymple and Don Buford in the sixth for Baltimore.

In the 11th, Dick Green was hit by a pitch from Eddie Watt, Mudcat Grant sacrificed. Campaneris hit a tie-breaking double and scored himself on Reggie Jackson's double.

Fritz Peterson hurled a five-hitter for the Yankees and became the first pitcher to blank the Royals this season.

Rutland Takes Double Header

Rutland Pirates went four points up on Kelowna Dairyland during the past week in senior Babe Ruth baseball.

The Pirates swept a double header from Peachland Wednesday and Thursday and then watched as Kelowna was upset by Summerland 8-4 in Kelowna Thursday.

Wednesday, Rutland completely demolished the visitors winning 18-2, with Brian Flegal starting things off in the first inning, with a two-run homer.

The Pirates continued the barrage throughout, with five runs in the second, one in the fourth and seven in the fifth, two in the sixth and one in the final frame.

Bob Schneider was the winning pitcher, going the distance, giving up just two hits—those coming in the fourth. Don Proctor suffered the loss for Peachland.

Thursday the Pirates, behind the three hit pitching of Pete Preston, downed the Peachland squad 8-1.

Ron Araki took the loss for Peachland.

Lyndon Hits 99 At Sportsmen's

Ed Lyndon came within one target of a perfect 100 score at the BCD's 22 club pistol shoot held at fish and game headquarters Tuesday.

Sixteen targets were submitted with Lyndon's 99 being followed in order by Frank Preissel's 98 and Anita Preissel with 97.

Although Anita Preissel was two targets from Lyndon's leading total, she registered more than double the number of 'x' rings, hitting seven.

For the record: Ed Lyndon 99-3x, Frank Preissel 98-3x, Anita Preissel 97-1x, R. H. Appel 96-3x, Stan Chatham 95-1x, Norm Yaeger 92-4x, Sam Pearson 90-2x and Dennis Newton 90-1x.

Ellis Fires 1st No-Hitter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dock Ellis knew he had something going, but the Pittsburgh right-hander needed a slight adjustment and a diving teammate in hurling the first no-hitter of the 1970 baseball season.

Ellis, 25, overcame his own wildness Friday night to stop San Diego Padres without a hit as the Pirates won 2-0 in the first game of a National League doubleheader.

He was supported by a pair of homers by Willie Stargell and an acrobatic catch by second baseman Bill Mazeroski.

The Padres won the second game 5-2 while Cincinnati Reds topped Philadelphia Phillies 3-1. New York Mets crushed Atlanta Braves 8-1. St. Louis Cardinals whipped San Francisco Giants 4-1. Chicago Cubs edged Los Angeles Dodgers 2-1 and Montreal Expos nipped Houston Astros 7-6.

"I thought I had a no-hitter going after the fourth inning," Ellis said. "A lot of guys don't want to talk about them, but why not?"

Ellis, in his third major league season, now has a 5-4 won-lost record for the year.

WALKED 8 BATTERS

He struck out six Padres Friday night, but walked eight and hit one batter.

"The ball I was throwing was moving and I was trying to throw it away," Ellis said. "After the fifth inning, I just tried to throw the ball down the middle and I was catching the corners."

The only close call was pinch-hitter Ramon Webster's line drive in the seventh inning that Mazeroski had to dive to make a backhand stab.

The Padres came back to win the nightcap as Danny Combs fired a five-hitter. Al Ferrara cracked a two-run fifth-inning home to break a 2-2 tie.

Tony Perez, the major league's home-run and runs-batted-in leader, ripped his 23rd homer, driving in his 65th and 66th RBI, to back the eight-hit, 11-strikeout pitching of the Reds' rookie right-hander Wayne Simpson, who won his ninth game against one loss.

Tommy Agee slammed a pair of solo homers, two singles, and scored four runs for the Mets.

Bob Gibson who won his seventh game by limiting the Giants to five hits, crashed a homer and a double.

TIMELY ARRIVAL

Don Kessinger, a late arrival due to a military commitment, stroked a seventh-inning run-scoring double for Chicago to score Billy Williams with the winning run. Ken Holtzman hit his 15th home-run of the season for the Cubs.

John Bateman drilled a three-run homer in Montreal's four-run first inning as the Expos held off the Astros.

Claude Raymond relieved in the eighth inning with Montreal leading 7-6 and Houston's potential tying run on third base with one man out. He held the Astros hitless.

Bateman homered across three runs in the opening inning for the second straight game. The blast made up for a passed ball and a catcher's interference error charged to the former Houston player that led to a 1-0 Astros lead.

Drawings By 12 Children For 1970 Christmas Stamps

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's 1970 Christmas stamps will feature Christmas drawings by 12 children from across Canada, the post office department announced Friday.

In addition to five-cent and six-cent Christmas stamps used primarily on domestic letters and cards, 10-cent and 15-cent stamps will be issued for use on parcels and international airmail. They go on sale in early October.

The five-cent stamps will reproduce drawings by Lisa Wilson, 8, of Kamloops, B.C.; Donna Niskala, 9, Macerorie, Sask.; Anthony Martin, 5, Marius, Man.; Dwayne Durham, 7, Fort Erie, Ont.; and Manon Leconte, 9, La Prairie, Que.

Drawings on the six-cent stamps will be by Jean Pomperleau, 8, St. Paul, Alta.; Janet McKinney, 8, Saint John, N.B.; Nancy Whitley, 10, Uxbridge, Ont.; Joseph McMillan, North Rustico Harbor, P.E.I.; and Eugene Battacharya, 7, St. John's, Nfld.

The 10-cent stamp will carry a drawing by Corrine Fortier, 10, St. Leon, Man., and the 15-cent stamp will have one by Janis Dojcek, of Flin Flon, Man.

About 50,000 drawings were submitted by children aged 12 years and under to the post office department's Christmas Canada stamp design project. The project was conducted in co-operation with provincial education departments and art galleries.

The final selection was made by the department's design advisory committee.

Traditional Christmas images, such as nativity scenes, Christmas trees and Santa Claus were most prevalent.

About 500 drawings will be shown in itinerant exhibits which will tour the country in the fall.

Famous Names Among Queen's Birthday Honors

LONDON (CP) — Some of Britain's most famous names in entertainment, a Commonwealth prime minister and a former McGill University professor receive high awards in the Queen's birthday honors list published Friday.

Sir Laurence Olivier, who will play his first musical role next season at Broadway gambler Nathan Detroit in a National Theatre revival of Guys and Dolls, becomes a life baron.

Dame Sybil Thorndike, 88-year-old doyenne of British actresses, becomes a Companion of Honor, as does Sir Frederick Ashton, director of the Royal Ballet. An array of box-office names receiving lesser awards includes Richard Burton, TV personality David Frost and a couple of actresses from an export-earning BBC TV serial, The Forsythe Saga, now showing in Canada.

New Zealand Prime Minister Keith Holyoake becomes a knight grand cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George (GCMG), which entitles him to the prefix "sir."

The former Montreal faculty member is Prof. George Catlin, who becomes a Knight Bachelor. Surrey-born Catlin, 73, headed the political science department at McGill from 1954 to 1960 and is the father of Shirley Williams, a junior education minister and intellectual dynamo in the Wilson administration.

Prof. Catlin is honored "for services to Anglo-American relations," a subject on which he has lectured and written widely on both sides of the Atlantic.

Also among 31 new knights is Italian-born catering chief Charles Forte, who rose in 20 years from owning a chain of milk-bars to several of the ritziest hotels and restaurants in London and Paris. Others receiving the accolade include Norman Reid, director of London's Tate Gallery, industrialist Arnold Weinstein, managing director of the giant General Electric Co., BOAC Chairman Charles Hardie, and book publisher William Collins.

Gagliardi Takes Firm Stand Against Welfare To Strikers

VANCOUVER (CP) — With funds and unemployment insurance for financial relief. There already are 100,000 needy persons on welfare.

In Victoria Premier Bennett defended Mr. Gagliardi's policy that permits issuance of food vouchers, but no cash, to persons put out of work by labor-management disputes. Opposition leader Dave Barrett has described the policy as "inhuman" and "degrading." Mr. Bennett disagreed.

Replying to reporters' questions, Mr. Bennett said "people in our province have perhaps the highest social assistance rates of any province."

"Those who are in the need in disputes and have paid into two funds — unemployment insurance and strike pay — I think they should draw on those funds first."

"It is the taxpayers of the province, people on pension and everyone, who pay for all these bills, and I think everyone is entitled to assistance and help."

"But I think those engaged in disputes — the management side have to take their losses, and on the union side they have got to use their union funds first. There is no use leaving union funds in the United States."

At the Vancouver meeting, Mr. Viala agreed with Mr. Gagliardi's estimate that the IWA has been collecting about $180,000 per month in dues from its members for months.

"Why don't your people qualify for union pay with all that money in the union?" the minister asked.

"There is a certain amount," said Mr. Viala. "Only someone is on the edge of starvation."

Mr. Gagliardi interjected: "When someone is in dire need — you have the same policy as we do."

Today Mr. Gagliardi said he and Mayor Tom Campbell of Vancouver have sent a telegram to Ottawa urging a speed-up in services of the Unemployment Insurance Commission and that they have offered to supply extra employees to assist unemployment offices in handling the more than 500 new applications received for unemployment insurance.

Ransom Demand For Ambassador Is 25 Prisoners

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The kidnappers of West German Ambassador Ehrenfried von Holleben have demanded 28 political prisoners as ransom and have issued a call for guerrilla war in Brazil.

President Emílio Garrastazu Médici's military regime distributed the lengthy manifesto to newspapers and radio stations without comment today, apparently at the demand of the kidnappers.

The document charged that the "military dictatorship un-masks itself more and more as an enemy of the people, as a servant of the big foreign capitalists as well as the big property holders."

"Only revolutionary war, guerrilla action and rural guerrilla warfare will bring the Brazilian people to freedom," it said.

Nine young men and a woman carrying machine-guns kidnapped the 41-year-old ambassador Thursday night near his home in the Gloria section of Rio.

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

WORSHIP IN THE CHURCH

Scripture—I Corinthians 11, 14.

After comments regarding the attire and decorum in the church, Paul rebukes the Corinthians for their behavior when observing the Lord's Supper.—I Corinthians 11:1-22.

Recalling the first Lord's Supper, Paul warns of the sin of partaking of the sacrament unworthily and he therefore urges self-examination.—I Corinthians 11: 23-40.

"Speaking with tongues" was a gift for furthering the Lord's work and edifying the Church, not disrupting it as was happening in Corinth.—I Corinthians 14:1-22.

Paul urges that church gatherings be kept orderly and within the bounds of Christian propriety.—I Corinthians 14:23-40.

GOLDEN TEXT: I Corinthians 14:40.

Major Churches Find Membership Declining

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time, both Roman Catholic and most major Protestant denominations in the United States are experiencing declines in membership. Instead of only a slowdown in growth, the trend in many cases has become an actual loss.

"The falling off has become pretty general among the mainline denominations," says Rev. Dr. Douglas Johnson, head of the research department of the National Council of Churches.

Why? "The reasons are multiple," he adds—including defections of young people, slackened evangelism, a technological-materialist environment and the pressures of change. But he sees glimmerings of an upturn ahead.

For the moment, however, the five-year downward curve in church growth is at its lowest point so far, and has become, on a broad front, outright reversal.

Only a few major communions, chiefly the Southern Baptists, the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod and the Mormons, have managed to continue some gains, but except for the Mormons, the gains were sharply reduced.

Other major Christian bodies—the Episcopal (Anglican), United Methodist, Roman Catholic, American Lutheran, United Presbyterian, Presbyterian U.S. (Southern), Christian (Disciples) and American Baptist churches and the Lutheran Church in America—reported membership counts were shrinking, in some cases for the first time.

RCs SUFFER SETBACK Although growth had been tapering off for several years, the new figures released recently for the Official Catholic Directory showed the church had its first real loss—down to 47,872,089, a drop of 1,149.

"Some people don't like what's happening in the church and are leaving it," says

Thomas Walsh, the directory's chief statistician for 11 years. He also cited lower birth rates, reducing baptisms and fewer converts.

Over-all, church membership in the U.S. now stands at 128,469,636, about 63.1 per cent of the 200,000,000 population, says the 1970 Yearbook of American Churches.

Deformed and mentally defective children, horribly mutilated and terminally ill cancer victims have for many years been the cause of an ethical storm in the medical profession.

Dr. McLure, moderator of the United Church of Canada, says a passive form of euthanasia, sometimes called mercy killing, is practised by some Canadian doctors who withdraw artificial support or treatment from dying patients.

Dr. McLure believes a physician should not hasten a patient's death but should give the patient sedation to make his death "as painless as possible" and then let nature take over.

The controversy, however, has always been whether this method of treatment is murder—especially when viewed in the context of Christian ethics.

GIVES HIS VIEWPOINT "I'm not speaking for either the church or the medical profession," Dr. McLure said in an interview, "but just giving my personal viewpoint."

"I've delivered children who were horribly deformed and suffered from brain damage and I could have saved them, but knowing the conditions in which they would have to grow up I have let them die."

"I don't know whether I would do the same thing in this country," said the doctor, who worked 13 years in India. "In an affluent society we have clinicians that are able to help such children."

"Perhaps my outlook has been warped by too many years in the mission field, and I hope that people here will be compassionate enough to understand what I'm talking about."

"I've had air raid victims who were mutilated—literally 'basket cases' with the loss of all their limbs and rendered deaf, mute and blind—and I could have tried to keep them alive—but I didn't."

Mercy Killing Not Immoral

TORONTO (CP) — The rise of scientific knowledge has helped double man's life span. Drugs and highly developed medical skills can either eradicate or alleviate pain.

Yet there are some people—as Dr. Robert McLure of Toronto, a former missionary-physician, says—who have a life before them that will be "a veritable living hell."

Deformed and mentally defective children, horribly mutilated and terminally ill cancer victims have for many years been the cause of an ethical storm in the medical profession.

Dr. McLure, moderator of the United Church of Canada, says a passive form of euthanasia, sometimes called mercy killing, is practised by some Canadian doctors who withdraw artificial support or treatment from dying patients.

CONSCIENCE AND COMMENT

RCMP Rapped By Magazine

By REV. K. NEILL FOSTER

The May 30 edition of Canadian Magazine has provided its many readers with a tasteless article which might have been dubbed, "A dozen reasons why the Mounties are unreliable."

Instead, awkwardly, and quite without imagination, they headlined their piece, "It's the R (ha, ha, C (he, ho) M (tee hee) P (haw, haw, haw)!"

We find ourselves wondering why the author wanted to discredit Canada's national police force. His article is a not too subtle effort to tarnish further the image of a force which has suffered a few well-publicized indiscretions.

A second object of the article seems to be to refute with ridicule, for lack of reason, a top Mountie's serious charge that Communist spying activities in North America will be stepped up if Canada recognizes Red China. The use of ridicule is an old literary trick which serves best, as the author knows, when reason will not do.

We are not about to suggest that the police are infallible or beyond criticism. To the contrary. They are thoroughly human. And certainly constructive criticism can help them change and modernize.

Nevertheless, by the nature of their attack, Tom Alderman and his publishers have done their large reading audience a grave injustice.

And perhaps not coincidentally, they have made it easier to call good men pigs, to heave bricks through the thin pane between order and anarchy.

St. Paul taught that in the last days men would be "de-spisers of those that are good." And unfortunately, Mr. Alderman, with his considerable talent, confirms the diagnosis.

INDIAN MISSION

Arriving home from India this week is Lexy Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alister Cameron of Kelowna. The girl is a lecturer at the United Bible Seminary in Yeotmal, India, the largest evangelical theological college in South East Asia. She has been speaking to congregations across Canada on her way home; her tour concludes here Sunday with an address at St. Michael and All Angels' Anglican Church on Sutherland Avenue. Miss Cameron will speak at both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services. She is spending the summer on vacation in Kelowna with her parents.

Production Index Rose In April

OTTAWA (CP) — The Dominion Bureau of Statistics industrial production index rose to 172.9 in April from 171.4 in March, largely because of increased manufacturing activity, the bureau reported Friday.

The gain of 1.5 index points or nine-tenths of one per cent, however, was considerably less than the sharp drop that latest figures show in the index between March and February's 175.1. The index is based on 1961 industrial output equalling 100, and measures about a third of total production in Canada.

DBS said there was a further decline in the output of mines and milling, quarries and oil wells. The index for April was 165.0 compared with 169.8 for March and 174.3 for February.

Manufacturing output was up in both durable and non-durable goods. The durable goods index rose to 189.6 from 187.7 in March but was still below February's 192.9. Non-durable goods manufacturing was back in April to the 154.8 level it reached in February after dipping to 152.8 in March.

Move To Extend House Hours

OTTAWA (CP) — The government moved Friday to seek Commons agreement to extend House sitting hours in a bid to meet the planned Friday, June 26, adjournment for a summer recess.

Notice of motion by Donald Macdonald, president of the Privy Council and government House leader, asking extension of sitting hours appeared Friday and it is expected that Mr. Macdonald will move his motion shortly after the Commons sits at 2 p.m. Monday.

The effect of the motion is to increase to 35 from 27 hours the time MPs spend weekly dealing with business in the Commons.

Under the proposal the House will sit Monday morning and Wednesday night and sittings on the other days are extended an hour.

Banks Should Reduce Rates Urges Hees

OTTAWA (CP) — Conservative George Hees (Prince Edward-Hastings) said today the government should urge the chartered banks to reduce interest rates.

Mr. Hees, a former president of the Montreal Stock exchange, said chartered bank profits are up 27.7 per cent in 1970 after a "very profitable" 1969 and bankers could well afford a decrease in interest rates.

Prime Minister Trudeau said he would gladly pass the suggestion along to Finance Minister Edgar Benson, who is in Vancouver at a Canadian Bankers Association meeting.

Mr. Trudeau said he is glad Conservatives are "taking a tough line on banks." Mr. Hees asked whether the government isn't doing the same.

SHE'S YOUNGEST GRAVESEND, Eng. (CP) — Jill Pearson, 21, is the youngest mayoreess this community has ever had. She comes into the title on the strength of her father's being the new mayor of Gravesend and he's a widower.

Two Kinds Of Lupus And One Dangerous

By George C. Thosteson, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would like information on lupus erythematosus. Are there two kinds, one that just affects the skin, around the hairline and cheeks? How accurate is a skin biopsy? Does the skin type progress to the other type?

A dermatologist did a skin biopsy on my husband 10 years ago and said he had lupus. My husband has had skin eruptions off and on. Exposure to the sun and tension seem mainly to cause them.

Five years ago a doctor examining my husband when he had no skin eruptions said he saw no signs of lupus. My husband therefore decided that the dermatologist was mistaken and he'd forget the whole business.

However now he is having some joint pains. X-rays show no arthritis, and I think he should talk to his new doctor (we've moved again) about a possible lupus connection.—T.A.

Lupus erythematosus is not a "common disease," but questions from readers indicate that there are a good many people, even so, who have it or want to know about it.

Mrs. T. A. is correct in thinking there are two types: discoid, which primarily attacks the skin, especially around the nose and forehead; and the systemic type, which can attack virtually anywhere in the body.

Severe cases of the latter can be difficult and dangerous. It is characteristic of the disease to react to sunlight; patients have to be aware of that and act accordingly.

The disease can come and go over a period of many years. Treatment with steroid hormones is the usual method of control.

About six per cent of the discoid cases merge into the systemic type, which is a large enough percentage so patients should be on guard against that possibility.

Lupus erythematosus is one of the "collagen diseases" which attack connective tissue. It is recognized that there is some connection between lupus and arthritis, but since the cause of neither has been identified, we can't explain this connection. But lupus is quite often accompanied by arthritis, and the better the lupus is controlled, the better the arthritis behaves.

So, Mrs. T. A., I think you are on the right track. I think your husband should talk to his new doctor. And even if the skin disfigurement of the lupus does not show, I think that by all means he should tell the doctor about the biopsy findings of 10 years ago.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would it be possible for a person's skull to become enlarged because of a brain tumor? This person does not have any pain or headache.—U.S.

No. Adult skull bones are fixed. A brain tumor would cause pressure (and headache) but would not cause bulging.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Should a person with chronic nephritis and high blood pressure limit his intake of salt and alcohol? —Mrs. J.H.

Yes, especially the salt, since the kidneys have much to do with secretion and retention of sodium (salt). Salt also can be a factor in high blood pressure.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would like to know what osteo degenerative joint disease is and how it acts. Is it a fatal disease? What are the last stages of it? —J.H.

It's an elaborate name for the osteo or wear-and-tear type of arthritis. It occurs in older persons and usually involves weight-bearing joints as knees, spine, hips. Knobs at the end joint of the fingers may be part of the process. The edges of bone get thickened. It is not fatal but can cause stiffness and aching.

AIM AT CLEAN-UP
AMHERST, N.S. (CP) — Six teen-agers have tackled voluntarily the job of cleaning this northern Nova Scotia town's war memorial of dirt and grime. The six turned out for their first day's work armed with solvent, brass cleaner and scrubbing brushes. These did not do the job and the youths have appealed to citizens for suggestions on more effective cleaning methods.

The bidding:
East South West North
Pass 1 NT Pass 3 NT
Opening lead—seven of spades.

Declarer has lots to think about in some hands. For example, take this deal where declarer can make many pertinent observations before playing a card from dummy:

1. He starts with eight sure tricks and sees that the contract is cold if he takes a diamond finesse and it succeeds.

2. All hands where West has the king of diamonds are therefore of no concern, since there are twelve tricks available in that case. The play must be planned on the basis that East has the king of diamonds.

3. Which spade should South play from dummy? This depends on who he thinks has the ace. Actually this question is not difficult to solve. West must have it because, according to the Rule of Eleven, East can have only one card higher than the seven, which cannot be the ace, for that would give West the J-10-9-7 — and he would have led the jack in such case.

4. If declarer plays the queen, it will therefore hold the trick, but he is then subject to defeat when East returns a spade after the diamond finesse fails. The alternative play of the five must therefore be considered.

5. The contract is completely safe if the spades are divided 4-4, so the only hands to worry about are those where the spades are divided 5-3 or 6-2.

6. If they are 5-3, the contract cannot be made against proper defense, so this possibility is excluded from consideration.

7. If the spades are 6-2, the contract cannot be defeated if a low spade is played from dummy and East is permitted to win the trick. In the actual hand, this play results in making ten tricks.

In effect, declarer ignores all cases where his course of play makes no difference. By concentrating on hands where his choice of plays matters, he gives himself the opportunity to make all hands that can be made.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Planetary influences promise congenial personal relationships on Sunday; also success through mental work and writings, a surge in outdoor interests. All in all, a good day!

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that you should take advantage of every available opportunity to advance yourself in occupational matters now since you are currently in a position where, stellar-wise, you should find your mental resources highly stimulated. This should intensify your innate originality and imagination, and good ideas, conceived now and cleverly executed, should bring gratifying results—soon! Most auspicious periods for gaining recognition for efforts: July, September, late October, late December, next January and March. Best periods for increasing fiscal assets: The first three weeks of July, the weeks between Dec. 31 and Jan. 31, all of March.

Personal relationships will be star blessed for many of the week, with emphasis on romance between now and Aug. 15, in October, late December, February and April; and on travel during July, August, early October and the first three months of 1971.

A child born on this day will be remarkably versatile; could especially succeed at writing or music, and will have a great love of travel.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW

There may be some confusion prevalent during Monday's early hours, so stick to routine until the air has cleared. The P.M. will be a good time in which to enter negotiations, discuss business with superiors or partners, to generally advance your interests.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If Monday is your birthday, you may look ahead to a year which should bring great happiness especially in the achievement of career goals. Get to work on pet projects now, since planetary influences are so generous in stimulating your clever and original ideas that, by co-opting with them, you should find yourself in an enviable position through advancement and recognition before your next birthday rolls around. Look for especially good trends in this connection during July, September, late October, late December, next January and March. Most auspicious periods on the financial score: The first three weeks of July, the weeks between Dec. 23 and Jan. 31, the entire month of March. Just one month, however: Don't engage in speculation for the duration of July, August, October or November. (July gains may come through a good tax break, increased earnings or yields from sound investments only).

Domestic and social activities should prove stimulating for most of the year, and you may realize a dream of travel—in July, August, early October and/or the first three months of 1971. Most propitious periods for sentimental interests: The weeks between now and Aug. 15, October, late December, February and March.

A child born on this day will be endowed with unusual creative and inventive ability; could succeed in literature, teaching, research or as a musician.

TRY AND STOP ME

By Bennett Cerf

A MINNEAPOLIS librarian's attention was drawn to a little boy who wandered over to the "Books in Foreign Language," rack and picked up a French edition of the famous story, "The Three Bears." He carefully scanned the familiar pictures, puzzled briefly over the text, then called excitedly to his companion, "Hey, look at this! A book written in BEAR language!"

A newly published tome entitled "Can Elephants Swim?" provides some fascinating information. Example: 1. The largest living animal since prehistoric times was a female blue whale weighing the equivalent of 2,267 humans at 150 pounds each. 2. Most animals don't see colors—only grey. 3. The word "bungalow" originated in India (it means "belonging to Bengals"). And 4: A phobophobia is a fear of fear.

And, oh, yes, elephants CAN swim.

OVERHEARD:
Waiter at a ski resort: "I think you've had enough to drink, Mr. You're pitching woo at our stuffed polar bear." At a midtown bar: "How's for trying one of our new Jet cocktails? Two of 'em and you can't remember what your Namath!" Lady driver to a soldier to whom she's given a lift: "Now fasten your seat belt, son. I'm about to park." Sarcastic boss to the office wolf: "Who was that blonde I saw you outfit last night?"

House Builders Association

AFFILIATED WITH THE NATIONAL HOUSE BUILDERS ASSOCIATION

An Invitation to All Contractors and Suppliers in the Building Trade to Join Our Association Now Because You and the

KELOWNA BUILDERS ASSOCIATION BELONG TOGETHER

The Kelowna Builders Association is affiliated with the National House Builders Association and this association is "the only National Organization truly representing and speaking for the residential construction industry in Canada." This Association is "the only organization with the ability and strength to work for the mutual benefit of all within the industry and the individual improvement of each."

For membership application contact:

Peter Weninger, Membership Chairman — Phone 762-2716.

REMINDER To all members and interested persons. The next meeting of our Association will be held on Tuesday, June 16, 1970 at the Capri Motor Hotel. 6:30 reception, 7:00 supper.

THIS WEEK FEATURING BADKE CONSTRUCTION LTD.

The firm of Badke Construction Ltd. had its beginning in 1946, when Chris Badke, the father of the present owner, Bert Badke, came to Kelowna from Manitoba to retire. Soon after arriving in Kelowna, he realized that with the rapid rise in the cost of living, his savings would soon be depleted. Since he had considerable experience in the building trade in Manitoba, he decided to build a few houses to supplement his savings. He worked mostly by himself and without the benefit of power tools, and built about two houses a year, living in each house for several months before selling.

His son, Bert, joined his father in 1957. The firm then became known as C. & B. Badke Construction. Badke Senior retired in 1961, leaving the business for his son, Bert, to carry on. The firm was incorporated in 1966 under the present name of Badke Construction Ltd.

Their main business is in light commercial buildings and custom built houses. They also do designing and drawing of plans for those who are planning to have a house built.

So for that "personal touch" in the building of your home, why not give them a chance to bid on the home you are planning to build?

WHILE YOU ARE LOOKING YOU WILL BE LEARNING

Chances are you will discover new homes and apartments in every style, shape and price range. You will discover the endless possibilities of customizing to your individuality and taste. You will be amazed to find to what extent they are equipped for modern living. Did you know that many modern features considered luxuries a few years ago are now standard items. And there is more to learn.

You can learn a lot from any of the members of our Association whether he is a builder, designer or supplier. He knows a lot. He should . . . his life work is based on knowing all aspects of building, buying, designing or supplying building materials. Members of our Association are professionals. Our members are knowledgeable about new materials, new designs, new ways to do things that add quality while keeping the price reasonable. The National House Builders Association provides the necessary materials and information to keep our local Association up to date of any new developments in material and technique.

For the best advice, always be certain you contact a member of our Association. After all, he is in the business of better living.

A HOME OF YOUR OWN HOUSING STANDARDS

What are they? They are standards of construction and a contractor must build in reasonable conformity with them when he is building a house under the National Housing Act. These standards were originally established by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. Now they are prepared by the National Research Council. Their purpose is to set forth minimum requirements of planning, construction and materials for housing of all types. Housing standards are not determined by one group but by a special housing committee made up of people from industry, trade unions, consumer groups and professional organizations concerned with housing. As a result of their work, better housing is being built all across Canada. The quality of construction has improved noticeably since the standards were introduced to guide both the builder and the buyer.
